COMPETITION RULES

Are you an EMAP employee? Or are you immediately related to an EMAP employee? Well, when it comes to competitions, you can go forth and multiply. Ask you can't enter any of 'em.
Some other people who can also go forth and multiply are Gwynne, Zil Roppar, Champ, Neil Minton and his family from West Wornwood.
Since they don't have a right to be there, you have to hope your feet get in the way but, they too are banned from entering competitions. Oh, yeah, the editor's decision is final, so don't write to complain.

JAZZA'S FINAL BIT

You're expecting a competition, aren't you? Well, here it is. I want you to write to me with suggestions about what you think would be a great Final Bit competition. Use your skill, wit and imagination, if you've got some. The best competition idea will be turned into a Final Bit competition in a couple of months. The prize for the best entry? Well, I'll tell you next month - but I'll promise it'll be good. Send your entries to

WHAT A STUNNER

One of the best drawings yet received by us lot at MEAN MACHINES was sent in by the very talented Matt Lyon of Basingstoke, Hants. His stunning picture of Sonic the Hedgehog is a real eye-catcher. I'm sure we'll be seeing lots more stuff from this guy in the future - keep your eyes peeled.

PET TALENT BONANZA

Pepsi and Suki are the two pets owned by console-crazy Paul Rogers of Usworth, Tyne and Wear - but not much talent on display there, unfortunately. Don't they do anything but flop around?

However, here's a gifted moggie, and no mistake! All that Domino the cat needs to do a wicked impersonation of Lawrence of Arabia is a towel. Cheers to Mark Sanders from Manchester for sending in that picture of his pussy.

Winning the Cute Pic of the Month Award is James Whitlock of Shirley, Southampton, who sent in the superb picture of his dog 'n' kitten, Honey and Leo.

But real talent was found in the form of Ben Dick's veritable pet zoo in Loxwood, W Sussex! Max the dog, Jason the rat and Jason the cat have formed a rap group, but have yet to learn more than one line...

LOOK AT THE SIZE OF THAT FLICK

Flip me, it's shock horror revelation city this month with a veritable musical chair scenario as staff move around the office. First up Richard Leadbetter has moved across from CVG magazine to join us full time, parking his narrow ass on the still warm seat oh-so-recently vacated by Matt Regan.

"But where has the boy Regan gone?" I hear you cry? Well, he's toddled off to review exciting Spectrum and PC games for Sinclair User and PC Leisure. So wish bon adventure and all that to him, and extend a big, warm welcome to Richard, the phone box fiend of Witham Town.

JULIAN 'JAZ' RIGNALL

Jazza's holiday will be in Florida this year, where he plans to visit all the fabbo tourist attractions like the MGM and Universal Studios. Top of his list, though, is Disney World, where he can't wait to see and meet all the Disney characters! Odd really, since he already works with a staff of Mickey Mouse characters, you'd think he'd want to get away from them...

CURRENT FAVE GAMES: STAR CONTROL, SIM CITY

RICHARD 'TELECOM TERRORISOR' LEADBETTER

Richard isn't going on holiday this year, instead this cosmopolitan dude's week off will be spent sightseeing in his home town of Witham and checking out the local girls at the large supermarket nearby. And we're sure that he'll while away many of his leisure hours getting up to more phone-box frolics and mouthpiece malarkey. CURRENT FAVE GAMES: FINAL FIGHT, SIM CITY, SUPER MARIO IV

OZ 'HE'S A REAL NOWHERE MAN' BROWNE

Hardworking Oz is spending his holiday in the office. So that's that.

CURRENT FAVE GAMES: STRIDER, MIDNIGHT RESISTANCE, THUNDERFORCE III

GARY 'I LOVE STROKING PUSSIES' HARROD

Gary's going on a massive UK tour of British arcades, where he's hoping to play every game in existence. He's starting at Key Amusements in Poole, and will then be working clockwise around the country by bicycle, spending loads of cash racking up as many highscores as possible. If you see him, take his picture and send it into MEAN MACHINES!

CURRENT FAVE GAMES: SIM CITY, MIDNIGHT WANDERER

RATING SYSTEM

Here at MEAN MACHINES we are committed to giving you the most in-depth console reviews. Here's how they work.

GAME DIFFICULTY: This tells you how easy or tough the game is. If you're a novice player, easy games should keep you happy. If you're a veteran joystick-jockey, medium or hard games are recommended.

LIVES: Tells you how many times you can die and still return from the grave.

CONTINUES: Tells you how often you can restart from where you died. Beware: too many continues can allow you to finish the game too quickly, and seriously damage your enjoyment.

SKILL LEVELS: Many games let you fix the difficulty level for yourself, so you can increase the challenge if you get good at it. This tells you how many skill levels there are.

RESPONSIVENESS: Is it humanly possible to avoid that mutant's death-beam, or does the joystick refuse to obey your frantic commands? This section lets you know!

PRESENTATION: This is an important part of any game. Are the instructions clear (and in English)? Do the option screens make sense and look pretty? Is the screen well laid out? Is there plenty of in-game info? This rating tells you all.

GRAPHICS: This includes not only the quality of the sprites and their animation, but the backgrounds as well. Graphics are judged not only on their prettiness, but on how well they are suited to the game.

SOUND: The difference between a booming, catchy intro tune and a few weak beeps that sound like a dying Spectrum is indicated here. Music and effects can make a big difference to a game, so don't ignore this factor.

PLAYABILITY: Some games you just can't stop playing, no matter how late at night it is. This measures the addictiveness of the game, and how much you'll think about it - even when you're not playing it!

LASTABILITY: You don't want to spend your cash on something that will only last a week. Check this box out to judge if you are going to be playing it in a month, or be bored with it within a week.

OVERALL: This is it. This mark takes into account all the above ratings and acts as a guide to the game's overall quality. If a game scores over 90%, it's a Megagame and is well worth buying!

PLAYERS: Simply tells you how many players can play the game - either simultaneously, or one after the other.

MARKS

90+ A MEAN MACHINES MEGAGAME! A completely superb game which shouldn't be missed.

80-90

A very, very good game which just misses out on the Megagame award due to minor deficiencies. Definitely try it.

66-79

A pretty good game which should still appeal to fans of the genre.

45-64

An average game - might disappoint some fans.

30-44

Below average. Very few players will get much entertainment.

11-29

A very poor game indeed which will only be played a few times before being shelved.

14-

An utterly ghastly travesty which should be avoided at all costs.

AWARDS

MEGAGAME

When you see this on a review, it means that the game has gained the highest award MEAN MACHINES can bestow. And if the game is for your machine, you better start saving for it now!

CLASSIC

This is given to a golden oldie which MEAN MACHINES decides to review. Although the game has been out for a while, if you haven't got it in your collection, you're missing out.

PRESENTATION 91%
The game is very well presented, with plenty of options. Nice presentation screens as well.

GRAPHICS 91%
A nice variety in all the backgrounds and sprites.

SOUND 72%
Decent enough effects, but the tunes are slightly lacking.

PLAYABILITY 87%
Plenty of really decent shoot 'em-up stuff on offer - shame about the extra weapons though.

LASTABILITY 81%
The long-player option keeps the shoot-low high, and in the single-player mode there is plenty of long-term challenge.

OVERALL 85%
A tough and addictive vertical shooter, which could have done with some better power-up weapons. Recommended for traditional blasting fixers.

NINTENDO'S ACE LINE-UP!

Nintendo have come up with a huge list of potentially block-busting games set for release at the end of the year. The biggie must be Super Mario Bros 3, the latest in the completely cosmic Mario series. Featuring loads of levels and secret warps, Mario 3 has out-sold supply in the US, and will doubtlessly do the same when it's released over here in early November.

Other biggies include The Simpsons, which we extensively previewed in issue seven. This will definitely be released at the end of the year, along with the long-awaited WWF Wrestlemania! Nintendo also hope to release Powerblade, a beat 'em up in the Batman style that has sold untold copies in the US. It features simultaneous two-player thrills along with over ten different weapons with which to bludgeon the baddies. Rollergames is another beat 'em up, this time with the action taking place on roller skates! Other biggies lined-up for release next year include Top Gun 2, Defender of the Crown, Mission Impossible (based on the TV series) and Ski or Die.

But that's not all, because Nintendo also have a load of Gameboy stuff ready for release over the months leading up to Christmas, with goodies in the form of Super RC Pro Am (which is apparently better than the NES game and programmed by Rare!), The Rescue of Princess Blobette (a Boy and His Blob Gameboy adventure), Samurai Adventure, and the pretty impressive conversion of Irem's R-Type coin-op! Not bad, eh?

SEGA AT THE SHOPPER SHOW

Sega have decided to turn out in force at the December Computer Shopper Show, to be held at the Wembley Exhibition Halls from 5 to 8 of December. As well as being an opportunity to show new products, the Shopper show usually turns out to be a major price-cutting extravaganza, with companies of all descriptions selling off their wares at mega-cheap prices. There are always some mail order console companies making an appearance at this event, so if you fancy getting hold of some new carts on the cheap, this is the place to be!

BLACKPOOL'S CRYSTAL MAZE

If you fancy having a bash at the biggest computer game in the country, Blackpool's the place to be! They've erected a massive version of Channel 4's Crystal Maze at the Sandcastle leisure centre on Blackpool's famous Golden Mile.

According to Cyberdome - the game's organisers, you can climb ladders, crawl through secret tunnels, swing across a snake pit and even the Vampire Batcave has been included, where players have to recognise objects only by touch (sounds a bit suspect to us). There's also lots of computer-related puzzles to overcome, as well as an Aztec Temple scenario, dungeons below medieval towers, and there's even a Future Space stage!

So, if you're going on holiday to sunny Blackpool this summer, why not check it out?

That man Jazza spent two fun-filled weeks in Chicago, during which time he visited the mega-enormous Computer Entertainment Show - one of the biggest computer and console shows in the whole world. Here's some of the hot news he managed to dig up and send back to the office during his thrill-packed excursion to the States.

16-BIT WRESTLEMANIA

Acclaim also have a treat in store for Super NES-owning WWF fans in the form of their new Wrestlemania cart. Featuring superb, realistic sprites based on the real-life wrestlers, WWF looks certain to go down a treat in the US. Acclaim are promising to include one-on-one matches, tag team games and even the daunting four-man rumble! There's even some "pre-match drama" thrown in for good measure!

TAITO TITILLATIONS

Taito are developing some pretty hot new Megadrive products for the US market, so via the importers they'll more than likely end up on our hallowed shores before too long. The first game is Thunderfox, a beat 'em up with shoot 'em up overtones that pits the player (and his chum in two-player mode) against rampant terrorists. The second release is Growl, a conversion of a coin-op currently "doing the rounds" in an arcade near you. Growl is a shoot 'em up with seven levels and loads of special moves and weapons with which to do over a bunch of evil wildlife poachers. No release date has been set yet for these games, so don't hold your breath!

CAPCOM GO MEGA

Capcom used the Chicago CES to continue plugging the latest in their long-line of mega-quality Nintendo Mega Man games. Mega Man 3 has been doing the rounds for a few months in the US now, and boasts 21 levels of action, with eight more mega baddies to do away! Rush, Mega Man's pooch also makes an appearance to help out his mega master! But that's not all, because Capcom also unveiled Mega Man 4 at the show! This is going to be released in the States around November. Unfortunately, there's no UK release dates yet for either of these potentially stunning games.

FROM USA

DATA EAST SUPER NES MALARKEY

Caveman Ninja, a scrolling cutesy beat 'em up in an arcade near you, is to receive the Super NES (that's the American Super Famicom) treatment thanks to the game's creators, Data East. The game's a simultaneous two-player effort with the ninja cavemen out to rescue a cave-babe that's been viciously kidnapped. Data East reckon they've duplicated the graphics, sound and gameplay, so it should be quite impressive...

FROM USA

BATTLE UNIT ZEO TH

TM

One of the more impressive Gameboy titles unveiled at the Chicago CES was Jaleco's Battle Unit Zeoth.

It's a game of mass destruction involving massive robots, armed to the teeth with the likes of Vulcan cannons, hyper bombs, beam guns, and hyper shields. The graphics look mighty impressive for a Gameboy title, and with five horizontal and vertically scrolling levels, Battle Unit Zeoth looks very promising. The importers should have the game on these shores any day now, and we'll be reviewing it as soon as possible.

SEGA SENSATIONS

Sega have a whole goodie-bag of new games lined-up for release stateside. Golden Axe 2 looks very impressive with "next generation characters with new and different moves", though the general scrolling slash 'em up gameplay looks much the same. Alien Storm is a close conversion of the horrific Sega coin-op, whilst Fantasia looks like being another mega platform game using the Disney film for inspiration. Quackshot details Donald Duck's worldwide platform adventures, collecting treasure with the aid of his mischievous nephews. MERCS looks like a very close conversion of the massive Capcom coin-op (one of Gaz's all-time faves), whilst Spider-Man's a cool platform game with all the wall-crawling and web-slinging a Spidey fan could ask for!

US VIRGIN HITLIST

The US arm of Virgin Games have a veritable lorry-load of decent games coming out on consoles of all descriptions. They've signed up the Kevin Costner movie, Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves, and they've turned it into a Nintendo RPG, which looks quite impressive. They've also signed up the immortal Marvel character, the Silver Surfer, in an overhead scrolling Nintendo game. But perhaps most exciting of all is the Gameboy conversion of Prince of Persia - the graphically amazing platform game! We wait with bated breath!

MARVELLOUS MARVEL LAND

Namco's obscure cutesy coin-op is scheduled for a Megadrive appearance sometime during the next couple of months.

Marvel Land is a bright, colourful platform romp set inside a massive fun fair (the Marvel Land of the title). The levels are all based around the different rides in Marvel Land, so expect to see the likes of big wheels, roller coasters, and of course, the big top. But don't expect a fun-filled excursion to Amusement City, because King Mole has kidnapped Princess Wondra, so be sure to use your powerful jumps and the "spirit whip" tactic to good effect!

As you can see from the screenshots, Marvel Land looks graphically amazing and all of the different rides give each level a unique style. As soon as the importers get copies into the UK, we'll get our reviewing trousers on to give you the definitive low-down.

RAIDEN

Seibu's amazing arcade vertically scrolling shoot 'em up, Raiden, is scheduled for a September release on the Megadrive! Enemy fighter 'planes have been giving the good guys a bit of aggro, so our heroes have shot down a few and bolted all of the wreckage together to create the Raiden - the meanest airborne fighter of them all!

From the looks of it, Raiden looks like being a more than arcade-perfect conversion.

featuring mega explosions and six different weapons systems (some of them can be powered up eight times!). Featuring eight stages of awesome destructive potential along with a special extra level that wasn't in the coin-op, Raiden looks like being the best thing since Zero Wing! But that isn't the end of all this Raiden-related excitement, for the word is that a Super Famicom version is also in offering! We'll give you more details as and when they become more available.

FROM JAPAN

ZELDA 3 ON FAMICOM

The Legend of Zelda series have sold who knows how many millions across the globe on the 8-bit NES, and Nintendo are currently programming the latest in the series - just for the Super Famicom. The appropriately named Legend of Zelda 3 is scheduled for an August release in Japan, so expect the same brand of puzzling and arcade action, but this time with super-amazing graphics and sound! Hopefully, the quest itself will be larger and possess more depth than its 8-bit counterparts. The only problem we can foresee is that a lot of the text will probably be in Japanese, but needless to say, when we know more, you will too!

BEAST

SEGA

When you were a child, the evil Beast Mages of Maletoth snatched you from your family and threw your folks in jail. Over the years these deformed creatures pumped you full of evil, beast-like potions with the express purpose of changing you from a wide-eyed innocent child into a massively muscular, but rather hideous Beast. The Beast Mages want to use you to carry out their foul deeds, and your drugged, twisted mind cannot refuse.

Then one fateful day, you witness the ritual sacrifice of your father at the hands of Maletoth's warped minions. The past suddenly comes back to you, and you swear vengeance against Maletoth and all of his minions. You vow to travel the whole of the land, dishing out Beast-like justice to your new-found foes until Maletoth perishes in the inevitable final conflict...

OF THE ## TWEAKS 'N' IMPROVEMENTS

Although the 16-bit versions of the game were graphically amazing, they suffered from rather shallow gameplay. It was just a case of running about hitting and avoiding things. Tecmagik are quick to realise the faults of the original and have tweaked and refined the gameplay to make it that more interesting. What this boils down to is better combat and loads more traps and strategy in the game itself.

▲ Travel down the well for an underground surprise.

▲ That ladder leads to danger!

▲ This tree stump leads to an underground cavern!

▲ The Beast loiters around the castle...

▲ The inside of the tree stump.

▼ Poised and ready for action.

GAMEPLAY A-GO-GO

The general gameplay of Shadow of the Beast generally involves our deformed chum running around the scrolling backgrounds, beating up Maletoth's minions and solving puzzles in the platform environment until the final confrontation with Maletoth himself! Memory permitting, Tecmagik also hope to include great Psygnosis-style intros and end-of-game sequences.

MEAN PREVIEW

SEGA

LEVELS AND LADDERS

There are plenty of different levels packed into this cart. The game map itself is pretty close to the Amiga original and you'll find foreboding forest regions, underground chambers and a massive castle to explore. So, depending on how these massive levels are filled, there should be plenty to keep you occupied.

▲ It's a good thing he didn't land on those spikes.

THE MAIN ATTRACTION

The original Amiga version of Shadow of the Beast received a lot of praise for its amazing award-winning graphics. With its superb scrolling and multiple levels of parallax scrolling, it certainly was a treat to look at. Sega owners will be pleased to learn that their version of Beast has similar gobsmacking graphics and at its best has a mind-numbing eleven layers of parallax scrolling! Not bad eh?

MEAN YOB!

YOB's going on holiday to Skegness this month, so he's feeling pretty happy. But that doesn't mean that you're all going to escape unscathed! If you've got anything interesting to say, write to: YOB'S HOLIDAY

MAILBAG, MEAN MACHINES, PRIORY COURT, 30-32 FARRINGTON LANE, LONDON, EC1R 3AU. Pictures, jokes, photos, blank cheques and anything else also much appreciated! So write now... or else!

IS THIS Q+A OR WHAT?

Dear Mean YOB,
I have the Nintendo NES version with three games (Mario Brothers, The Legend of Zelda and Duck Hunt). I am the worlds biggest PacMan fan, and I was wondering if you can get PacMan games for the Nintendo. I also wondered if you can get Garfield games and Sonic the Hedgehog for the Nintendo.

Yours wonderingly
Stuart Munro, Ringwood, Hants
YOB: Well, since I'm feeling generous this minute (I've just eaten a big choccy bar) I'll tell you that PacMan IS available for the Nintendo. The bad news is that you can only get it in America at the moment. PacMan is also available on the Gameboy from import specialists - I'd suggest you go for that.

WELL BLASTED SPOTTED, SIR

Dear YOB,
I am a Nintendo owner and have recently purchased a book called Blaster Master by Worlds of Power. It is about a boy called Jason Frudnick who lets his pet frog out of his glass case and follows him to a swamp where he falls down a hole into another world called Signar-el. There he meets someone called Yvtrkizj Eve's help Jason defeats 8 mutant underboss's before destroying the Plutonium Boss and saving Plutarch (Alex's pet lobster) and Fred (Jason's pet frog). Please could you answer these questions.

1. Is there a game for the Nintendo called Blaster Master.
2. If so is it available in the shops.

3. If there is such a game what sort is it?

4. If there is such a game what do you have to do?

5. How much does it cost (roughly?)

Thank you for answering these questions.

D Greensmith, Market Harborough
YOB: Nintendo were going to release the game of the Blaster

Master book last year, and it was sent to us for review. It was covered in the Complete Guide to Consoles Book II and scored a handsome 93%. However, shortly afterwards, due to some mysterious circumstances that shall forever remain unsolved, it was pulled from the release schedule and has never again been seen. A shame, really because it's a superb game, combining platform, arcade adventuring and blasting action.

WEAKLY WEEKLY

Dear YOB.

I am a fifteen year old Gameboy owner that has recently purchased a new weekly games mag that will remain nameless for obvious reasons. It claims to contain items on computers and consoles. Well, consoles my left eyeball. I've seen more console items up an African chimpanzee's rectum on a Sunday afternoon. So I would just like to say that in my eyes and everyone else's I hope that you are still the best mag for consoles and I intend to stay faithful to you my renewing my subscription every year.

Yours suck-upingly,
 Ian Ralph, Linlithgow, West Lothian
YOB: Don't worry about it, I'm sure the offending weekly item won't be around to trouble you much longer.

Someone even uglier than Rambo!
 From Matthew Ayton of Hackney.

▼ Paul Rogers, l'artiste de rue!

IT'S ALL IN THE GAMEPLAY

Dear YOB,

I recently joined the console world by buying a Nintendo Mario Bros pack. I had £200 to spend so I immediately sent it off to PC Engine Supplies to get it modified for US games. I then bought Mario 2 and 3. I was over-whelmed. For the price I could have bought an official Megadrive plus a game but I didn't care.

What I'm trying to say is that you don't need high tech state of the art graphics and to produce a brilliant game (ie Megadrive, Neo Geo, Super Famicom etc.) I admit that the NES graphics are pretty feeble compared to the megadrives but its the playability that counts. I would advise people intending to buy a console or computer to think about what I've said.

Glen Paul, West Lothian, Scotland
YOB: What you say is completely and utterly true. I've said the same thing at least ▲ Brat YOB from Sean Bailey of Stoke!

7,348 times - it doesn't matter how good the graphics and sound are, it's always the playability that's most important!

MEAN YOB!

XZ372 enhanced plutonic toxic suit which you happened to be wearing and holding an astonishing Z58 Plazman Hand Gun. This amount of equipment all adds up to a great amount of Zenbrato Bucks and was wondering wouldn't you be better off selling all of this out of date armoury to me (at a reasonable price) and buying an Z46801 computerised lock in ray disintegrator and how about a tasteful X529 Zenion contractor suit which is a much lighter and up to date model of the Z89's.

Ian Oatley, Atherton, Manchester

YOB: Oh, alright. But since the Zenbrato Buck has just collapsed, won't you take an empty mail bag, half a packet of Frosties and a lifetime's subscription to the Plain Truth?

MORE FOP FROLICS

Dear YOB.

I was astonished in a letter in issue 8 of MEAN MACHINES and someone or thing from Wakelield saying I was sad and lonely. Bad enough these beings come from a place that sound like a breakfast cereal and they intend in calling themselves Tich and Bearcyt. I want you to know I did not write the one by the LYING GIT The not real Man with the Stick. As the people at MEAN MACHINES might of guessed that my letter (that was my idea) would be very neat, computer done on Brilliant white A4 paper. While the LYING GIT's letter was probably on a scrappy bit of note pad he found in the gutter and said to himself, "Cor, look at that really cool bit of writing paper in the gutter".

So I leave it to the court of Judge Nutmeg (one again) and yes the every lasting wheel of justice says you must blow carnivorous ant-eaters in to Sue Lawly's ear through a straw. And now the moral of this letter is that Tich and Beancy are the lonely and sad ones. By the way I got fifty quid for doing that impersonation of Graham it's the fop! Lister which was sent in by a Miss Fiona England.

2-BIT BRAIN

Yo Mean YOB

I have purchase a Sega Megadrive and if I buy an adaptor for Sega Master System will it be 16-bit graphics or 8-bit. Please answer this question and don't think I'm a twerp.

Simon Barker, Woolwich Common, London

YOB: I do think you're a twerp. I'm sorry, but it's the question you asked. The graphics are 8-bit - identical in each and every way to a normal Master System, even down to the grotty flicker on some games!

SMART SUIT SALESMAN

Dear YOB

I am an Intergalactic Weapons and Special arms salesman, and was recently flicking through my MEAN MACHINES mags (which I collect), and couldn't help noticing an

PPPS This whole letter was MY idea.
YOB: I think it's time to let this lie...

VIVE LA RETARDO

Dirty farty pants YOB.
After reading your totally stupid article "A simple Solution" in April's edition, I thought I must write you this letter!

You stated that the Stupid
Famicom, I mean a Super Famicom was a lot better than the Amiga.

As I own an Amiga (which is probably the best computer in the world) I tend to disagree with this statement.

Obviously you have the intellect of a squashed hedgehog who is sitting on a commode reading the highway code upside down. The only reason why you said this statement is because you can only play games and you don't appreciate the qualities the Amiga has to offer.

And just because you can only master such things as the 1 x table you would obviously say this?!

Here are some reasons why I think the fabulous Amiga is better than the Famicom.

1. The games are cheaper!
2. Much better graphics!
3. A lot more games for the Amiga.
4. You can do a lot more educational stuff with the Amiga which could help you in school.
5. The Famicom is totally crap!
6. The Famicom is a waste of money.
7. The Famicom is a waste of space.

I would like to know why you think the Famicom is better than the Amiga, if you don't write (print) this letter than I will personally get you leg and put it in a microwave, fry it, let a Rotweiler savage it and then put tomato sauce on it and eat it!

Yours waitingily,
Key 'King of the Whizzkids'
Turner, Dudley, West Midlands

YOB: I like the Amiga, and I can appreciate its qualities - it's a good machine, and there are some great games available for it. But technically it's inferior to the Super Famicom - and that's something you'll have to face up to. Amiga games might be cheaper, but that doesn't make them better. You get what you pay for. After all, if I want to drive a fast car, I'd buy an expensive Ferrari, not a cheap

Skoda. Amiga graphics aren't better at all - you obviously need glasses. The Super Famicom has 28,000 colours more than the Amiga and can display them in much higher resolution! There indeed are more games out on the Amiga.

FATHERLY ADVICE

Dear Jazza,

Here is a short note from a totally confused Dad. I've been asked 100 times to buy a Megadrive, well with an IBM 386, Amiga 500, Atari Lynx and Gameboy (!) already in our house you can understand that this new marvel needs some understanding before I let myself in to this new venture.

1. When dealers claim that their Japanese model can handle all formats (English, US and Jap) what is then the point of buying a more expensive UK model?

2. The UK model has an A/V 8-pin connector alongside the RF plug (PAL). Can this A/V plug be used for RGB or Composite video?

3. The Jap model SCART/PAL can be used with Philips 8833 I read in the last MEAN MACHINES. Can it also be connected to NEC/Multisync 3D?

You can be assured that if you shine light on the above my son Taco gets himself a promised deal for either model as long as it does not cost me an extra TV or that he is forced to use my Sony TV.

Dad, Aberdeen
JAZ: 1: What indeed??? 2+3: Most specialist computer shops sell, or will make up leads that let you connect your Megadrive to virtually any system available - ring around and ask.

SPOT THE DIFFERENCE

Dear Jaz,

At the moment I am trying to get a PC Engine but I am trying to work out the difference between a PC Engine and a Core Gfx PC Engine. Could you please tell me! Duncan George. Twyford, Berkshire JAZ: There's absolutely no difference between them, apart from one is white and the other is dark grey. Buy whichever one is the cheapest.

WHERE'S THAT GUY?

Dear Jazza,

Could you please tell me why Guy is not in the Final Fight game on the Super Famicom.

Philip Walker, Cheltenham, Gloucestershire

JAZ: Memory restrictions, I'm afraid. According to the programmers, so much memory was required for the sprite animation, that only two of the original three characters could be included.

THE JOKE'S ON HIM

Dear Jaz,

I was recently looking back through some old issues of CVG. What ever happened to the A-Migadrive which featured in the news section of Issue 101 which converted Amiga games on to special carts and allowed you to play Amiga games on the Megadrive? Are Dev Tec who made them still around, and how can I contact them? Can I still get hold of an Amiga drive and special carts, where from and how much do they cost?

James Gotch, Swanage, Dorset
JAZ: You're a sad fellow! It just goes to show what happens when you don't keep up with the news! It was an April fool which was explained in the May edition of C+VG a full 12 months ago!

MORE COMPATIBILITY QUERIES

Yo Jaz,

I have got a huge problem about friends told me that the graphics on the machine were slightly blurred due to a lot of detail on the games being squashed into a small screen. Is my friend telling the truth or is he just fibbing? If he is right then how blurred is it and does it affect the gameplay much? Oh yes, and how long is the machine's battery life?

Ed Jones, Nettleton, Cheshire
JAZ: It depends on how much you were going to pay for it, but my advice would be to buy a Gameboy and put the rest towards a Super Famicom or Megadrive - the portable PC Engine really isn't that good a machine, and eats batteries like there's no tomorrow (six usually last around three hours).

DON'T WASTE YER DOSH

Dear Jaz,

I am planning to spend all my hard-earned cash on a portable PC Engine. I was just about to send off for one when one of my my holiday. I'm going to America and have been seriously worrying whether American games work on my UK Megadrive. Seeing as they're a huge third of the price less, I need to know if I need a special converter to play American games.

Tom Southwell, Luton, Bedfordshire

JAZ: Nope - so stop worrying, otherwise you'll give yourself an ulcer.

THUNDERING KIWIS

Dear Jaz,

I have got two questions for you to answer:

In Complete Guide to Consoles Book III it says that Thunderbirds and New Zealand Story are going to be released on the Nintendo. Will they be released in Britain? S Davidson, Colne, Lancashire JAZ: Prepare to book a seat for Who Knows City - there are no UK release dates as yet!

GET IT CONNECTED

Dear Jaz,

Please could you tell me if I can connect an Amstrad CTM 644 colour monitor to a Megadrive. And if so, what would I need to connect it?

Rory Crichton, Cheam, Surrey

JAZ: To connect your Megadrive to an Amstrad monitor, you need a pretty weirdo lead which will have to be custom made. Ask around at specialist computer shops and you should find someone who can help you.

RUDER AND RUDER

Dear Jaz,

Can you supply any back issues of MEAN MACHINES at all as I've only got no's 1 and 7 and any of the others would be really appreciated, if so can you write ring or tell me in next month's MEAN MACHINES what ones you can supply and how much money I should send.

I would be truly grateful, because at the moment I can only read my brother's back issues. Jonathan Dyer, Coxheath, Kent JAZ: Sorry, but back issue stocks of MEAN MACHINES have completely sold out. The only thing you can do is advertise in the wanted column in the classified ads. Not much help, I'm afraid, but it's better than slapping your spam in a blender.

NO CONTEST

Dear Jaz,

I am very close to buying a new console but haven't quite decided which one yet.

I was originally set to buy a Sega Megadrive but a lot of the games are far too easy considering the price. Which would you advise between a GX4000 and a Sega Master System? Are MEAN MACHINES still going to do GX4000 reviews?

Niki Mackintosh, Milton, Ross Shire
JAZ: The Sega Master System is by far the better of the two - it's got a rosy future, and there are many new games coming out for it. After very poor sales at Christmas, the GX4000 has died a swift death - there's no more software support for it, and the machine itself is being sold off for £29.99 in some shops! That's why we stopped covering the machine.

HAND-HELD FROLICS

Dear Jaz,

I have saved up £300 to buy a handheld console and some games and I was wondering what you think would be the best one to buy - a Gameboy with about seven games or a Lynx II with some games or even a PC Engine GT with very few games. By the way when the Game Gear is officially released will it be compatible with imported games - either American or Japanese - and will an imported machine be compatible with all upcoming English releases?

I think that your mag is amazing easily the best one on the market. Jody Goodall, Prestwich, Manchester JAZ: Out of the three you mention, the Gameboy gets my vote. Although it's got a black and white screen, its games are superb, the machine is truly portable and the batteries last for weeks, rather than hours.

FIREWORKS EXPLAINED

Dear Jaz,

I've been trying to figure out why there are fireworks at the end of some of the levels on Super Mario Bros.

The booklet does say that there is a reason for this but I can't find it. Could you find out why this happens?

Dom, somewhere

JAZ: If you grab the flagpole when the right hand number on the timer reads six, you get six fireworks and 3000 bonus points. If it reads three, you get three fireworks and 1500 bonus points, and if it reads one you get one firework and 500 bonus points. So now you know.

Q+A

NICE IN NICE

Dear Mr Jaz,
I don't suppose you've been to France in the Nice region recently have you? I thought I saw you on Newsround on the telly which I was watching (for some reason I wasn't thrashing my Megadrive with my game Afterburner good review from your excellent MEAN MACHINES).

This was all at a videogames competition. Did you actually enter, or are you too good to enter and were just spectating and snarling at the lesser mortals like me... Oh yeah is there any competitions I can try to win because I'm fairly fancy with the controls.

Anthony Marvell, Hitchin, Hertfordshire

JAZ: Yes, it was me! Well spotted!! I was there to go to the Game Gear launch which was held at the same time. Unfortunately I wasn't allowed to enter the videogame tournament because Sega thought I'd frighten off the competitors. Boooooo! Still, I challenged the eventual winner, Danny Curly to a couple of bouts of Streetfighter II at an arcade near the hotel and completely thrashed him!

CONSOLE US AMIGA OWNERS

Dear Jaz,
My mate and I have been reading this mag since Issue 3 and we both think this mag is the best console mag on the street. We both are Amiga owners and we both getting a bit sick sitting at home playing the Amiga, so we are planning to get a portable console, such as Gameboy, Game Gear, Lynx, etc. Back to business, we have few questions that hope you can kindly answer them for us.

1. Is the Japanese Gameboy same as the UK/USA Gameboy, and is it true that the Japanese Gameboy cartridges work on the UK Machine?

2. Roughly when will be the new Lynx (smaller version) be released in the UK?
Marty and Dick, Cambridgeshire
JAZ: 1: Yes. 2: This Christmas, supposedly.

YO HO-HO

Dear Jaz,
Recently I was shown by a friend of mine a strange device that he had got for the Nintendo.

This device was called the honey-bee and it was two pieces that fit together to make a cartridge. This device has 76 Nintendo games in it supposedly. When it was placed in an English NES it did not load.

It also did not have the seal of quality on like most games and accessories. Please could you help?

Stephen Oldham, Davenport, Cheshire

JAZ: That's because it's an illegal pirate cartridge. It's most probably an NTSC or Secam cartridge (foreign telly formats), and therefore won't work on British TVs. Ahhh! What a shame, I feel so sad.

PANTING FOR PANTHER

Dear Cool Jazza
Ahem I have some boring questions which I hope you can answer here goes

1. When will the Atari Panther be released?

2. What will games cost for the Panther?

3. Is the PC Engine 8-bit or 16-bit?

4. Is the PC Engine better than the Megadrive?

5. Is the PC Turbografx better than the Famicom, Neo-Geo, (you'd be mad to buy one) GigaDrive or any consoles mentioned in this letter?

Andrew Hallam, Chilwell, Nottinghamshire

JAZ: According to my American sources, Atari US have announced that they have cancelled development of the Panther and shelved the machine permanently. However, Atari UK seem to think that the machine will appear in Europe later this year. I'll hopefully know the proper story when I come back from the CES Show in Chicago. The PC Engine is 8-bit, and isn't technically as good as any of the other machines mentioned above.

FRIENDLY

Bigger and better than ever! The MEAN MACHINES tips rolls on apace, with more spectacular guides, cheats and hints! This month we've got specials on Ultraman and Sim City, along with how to get loads of extra lives on Shadow Dancer and a myriad of other super stuff. If you've got anything in the way of tips, cheats, maps - or whatever - send them in to MEAN MACHINES, PRIORY COURT, 30-32 FARRINGTON LANE, LONDON, EC1R 3AU. There's a monthly prize of £150.00 worth of console software on offer to the sender of the best tips of the month. This month David Rennington of Tadley, Hants strolls off with the goodies for his Ultraman tips. Next month it could all be yours...

MEAN MACHINES 30

This is an incredibly popular game on the NES, and Scott Harris of Solihull, West Midlands has many a tip for it. Here's how to beat those end-of-level guardians!

OSTRO

He's easy to beat. He spits an egg from his mouth, so jump on it and then pick it up. Throw the egg at Ostro three times and he dies. Now collect the jewel.

MOUSER

He's the guardian to levels 1-3 and 3-3. As he throws his bombs pick them up before they start to flicker and throw them back at him. He should walk into the explosion. Do this twice again and he's a dead rodent!

FRYGUY

The guardian to level 4-3. To beat

GRADIUS

Shoot 'em ups are always popular, and this cheat from Mustafa Rahman of Manchester will give new life to an oldie-but-goodie. Gather six capsules and you'll see "7" on the screen. Grab capsule number seven when your score has a zero in the thousands column (fourth from the right) and press A. Now the ship has super-speed and super-firing ability!

To get more points after gathering six capsules wait until there's a five in the thousands column. When the "7" appears grab the seventh and the reward is 10,000 points!

A great tip's been sent in by Peter Newman and Scott Turnbull of Altrincham, Cheshire. Use this method to get unlimited continues! Pause the game and press up, up, down, down, left, right, left, right then B and A together. When you die and the offer of Continue or End appears, press Continue by pressing the A button.

SIMON'S QUEST

Niten Saxena of Cheshunt, Hertfordshire (who sends his warmest regards to ACE and Raze readers - does he want his head kicked in?) has loadsa info on this in-depth Nintendo game. Let's go...

the heart and ask him for a ride. Once on the other side go left until you get to the mansion. Kill Grim Reaper to gain the Golden Knife!

MANSION
FOUR - DRACULA'S
NAIL

Go left from the start and past the ferryman. Stop at the end of the wastelands at the big red cliff (Deborah cliff). Kneel down with the red crystal and wait, a whirlwind will take you up and deposit you outside the mansion.

MANSION ONE
RIBBON

Go right from the start and keep going until you reach some stairs. Go down them and keep travelling right into the cave, then up. Go left and you'll be standing outside the mansion.

MANSION TWO
- DRACULA'S
HEART

Go right from the start until you reach the stairs and go down. Go into the cave and up (as before), but turn right at the top. Keep going until you come across some more stairs and descend. Keep right until you reach a large lake, then bend down holding the red crystal and it will sink down revealing more stairs. Go down again to be outside the mansion.

MANSION
THREE -
EYEBALL

Go left from the start and continue until you reach the ferryman. Hold

MANSION FIVE
RING

Go back to Deborah Cliff and call the whirlwind. At the mansion go left until you arrive at the lake. Bend down with the red crystal and go down the stairs, going left until you get to the mansion. Kill Vampira for the cross.

CASTLE
DRACULA; DRACULA'S
FATE

Start at mansion four and go right and down the stairs. Stay right until you reach the castle. Kill Dracula with the diamond to finish the game.

PROBOTECTOR

This is another cheat all the way from Australia. Jonathan Flownner knows how to increase your lives tenfold. On the title screen press up, up, down, down, left, right, B, A, then start. Now instead of three lives you've got thirty! Quite impressive - thanks Jonathan.

him throw three mushroom blocks at him. Now kill the four small Fryguy sprites. How do you do this? Pick up one of the mushroom blocks and jump to the top left of the screen and wait for Fryguy to come beneath you. Then drop the mushroom on him three times to kill him. This works for the small monsters as well.

TRYCLYDE

This three-headed snake is the guardian to worlds 2-3 and 6-3. Put some blocks (preferably about three) in front of Mario. Now when Trclyde breathes fireballs at the Italian U-bend expert the balls are deflected off the blocks and hit the evil one. Now throw a further three blocks at the snake to finish him off!

CLAWGRIP

This is the guardian to world 5-3.

His ability at rock-throwing is second to none, so keep out of the way when they land! Stay by the gap just under Clawgrips, and if the rock rebounds off the small wall it rolls towards Mario so jump onto it. Pick it up and throw it at the nasty boy five times to send him to his doom!

WART

Wart is the final boss, guarding the end of the game. He's tough so watch out! The best method of beating him is to stand on the platform furthest from him and grab the objects as they come out of the funnels. Now carefully run to Wart avoiding the bubbles from his mouth, and throw the object at him just as he opens his mouth to unleash more air-filled death. Do this six times (no easy task) and Wart kicks the pail and glory is yours!

SHADOW DANCER

Paul Farmer of Liverpool has some help for people who want to know the locations of all the extra lives in this ninja beat 'em up.

STAGE 1-1

After the first green disc-thrower and the gunman beyond him are dead, stand on the brick in between them and shoot. You're rewarded with a 1-up!

STAGE 1-2

Go beyond the first earthquake and above the disc-thrower. Once on the ledge a baddie rolls out and attacks - kill him and dodge the falling rocks (but stay on the ledge). Now shoot and another 1-up is yours!

BONUS STAGE

Avoid killing any of the ninjas for a 1-up.

STAGE 2-1

Jump down onto the ledge with two gunmen near the end of the level. Kill them, face right and fire. Now collect the massive 2-up reward.

STAGE 2-2

At the trailer, jump on to the second box, jump up and shoot right, and then collect the symbol.

BONUS STAGE

Do the same as the first bonus stage.

STAGE 3-1

Walk to the end of the third platform up and shoot the baddie who rolls out. Keep shooting until the symbol appears. Leave it and go back, jump up to the above level. Walk right until you're at the end above the symbol. Jump down to collect it and you get a 2-up.

STAGE 3-2

No extra lives.

BONUS STAGE

The same as usual.

STAGE 4-1

At the gaping holes jump over the first one. Turn to face left then shoot to reveal an extra life. Unfortunately it's a trap (you can't get it without dying), so don't bother!

STAGE 4-2

After disposing of the second green disc-thrower keep going until you come to the place where bullets fly out of the dark. Kill the two gunmen and jump over the brick. Turn to face left and shoot the brick to reveal the 1-up.

BONUS STAGE

Same as usual!

STAGE 5-1

In room two, between the 10th and 12th boxes, jump down and shoot left while crouching to get a 1-up. In room three behind the box where the hostage hides, shoot left while crouching to get another 1-up. In room five there's yet another extra life; shoot the jewel above the door.

SWORD OF SODAN

Anthony Kennedy of Middleton, Manchester knows all the potion mixtures in this dreary slash 'em up. Here are the combinations:

BLUE AND GREY: Shield

BLUE AND ORANGE:

Poison

BLUE AND RED: No effect

BLUE, GREEN AND

ORANGE: Super zapper

BLUE, GREEN AND

RED: Extra life

BLUE, ORANGE AND

RED: No effect

GREEN AND ORANGE:

Flaming sword

GREEN AND RED: Extra life

ORANGE AND RED:

Long-lasting flaming sword

If falling into the traps on level five is a problem, look for a small darkly-shaded part of the floor; this is the centre of the trap.

AFTERBURNER

Anton Wynn of Chalford,

Gloucestershire, has recently bought this flying shoot 'em up, and has already discovered a cheat for it. On the second title screen hold down A, B, and C then press start, now you can choose to start on any level from 1 to 20.

MIDNIGHT RESISTANCE

ミッドナイト レジスタンス

MEGADRIVE TIPS

秘技

Here's a neato cheato from Andrew Harker of Blackburn, Lancashire for this recent slaughter epic. On the title screen (when it says Midnight Resistance) hold down A, B, and C, press Start and then release the buttons. At any point in the game press Start to pause and use the A button to cycle through the levels.

Paul Martin from the Isle of Wight is a bit of an expert at this fabby Nintendo game, and he's sent in a whole player's guide to get lesser astronauts through the tricky bits. Thanks Paul!

A GUIDE TO THE GALAXY

Here's a list of the passwords for all the planets, the dangers to be found thereon and what weapons you should buy before disembarking from the Mother Ship.

PLANET TWO

PASSWORD: HLBPHHDBKNGB

WATCH OUT FOR: Limpet Cannons and Double-Barreled Piston Pumpers.

BUY: Efficient Engine and Time Bomb

PLANET FOUR

PASSWORD: DBBNBMBBXWHB

WATCH OUT FOR: Limpet Cannons, Mega-Gravity Planets and Death Shells.

BUY: Super Shield

SOLAR JETMAN

HUNT FOR THE GOLDEN WARPSHIP

THE PLAYER'S GUIDE

PLANET SIX

PASSWORD: DGDGHHBMLHB

WATCH OUT FOR: Laser Launchers and Gun Jumpers

BUY: Time Bomb

On the following planets, you don't get the chance to buy weapons, but here are the passwords anyway.

PLANET THREE

PASSWORD: DN8XPBHRXHB

PLANET FIVE

PASSWORD: DLDPDKKBGLHB

PLANET SEVEN

PASSWORD: DNDGPHHBRXHB

PLANET NINE

PASSWORD: DMGZNDKKBGLHB

PLANET ELEVEN

PASSWORD: DQGHQB8BRQHB

SECRET PLANET THIRTEEN!

PASSWORD: DDHVQB8BGDHB

After finding the last piece of the Golden Warship on Planet Twelve, Jetman goes on to Planet Thirteen, in which you are actually flying the Warship! This level is full of floating boulders which destroy your ship if they hit it. Shooting them breaks them into three smaller rocks, so the action is a bit like that arcade oldie Asteroids!

The boss at the end of the game is a massive rock with five eyes which can only be hit when they're open. That may not sound too difficult but the boss is protected by a spinning shield of indestructible rocks!

KNOW YOUR ENEMY

LIMPET CANNON

Stay at an angle when firing and avoid small groups of these pesky gun emplacements.

SAUCER FORCERS

Easy to kill, but mind you don't bump into their slow bullets!

DOUBLE-BARRELED PISTON PUMPERS

Don't venture within their line of fire - always destroy these from above.

GUN JUMPER

Dangerous if approached from the side. Fly over them and fire downward as you pass.

MEGA-GRAVITY PLANETS

The inherent anti-gravity of the red planetoids pushes you away, but it's hardly worth destroying these. The blue ones drag you towards them, so they are dangerous, but luckily they're also pretty easy to kill.

DEATH SHELL

Move into a gap above or below it then move up and shoot it's rear end.

DARTER

One hit will send this flying off.

CRYSTAL SNAPPERS

Dangerous because it follows you around. Two hits send it to the great crystal mine in the sky.

LASER LAUNCHER

Another baddie that should only be attacked from above.

DESTROYER

The hardest baddie of the lot (apart from the boss at the end of the game). The best advice is just to blast it as much as you can!

PLANET EIGHT

PASSWORD: DDDRQB8BXWB

WATCH OUT FOR: Crystal Snappers, Laser Launchers and Destroyers.

BUY: Star Bullets, Momentum Killer

NINTENDO TIPS

BONUS BLUE HOLES

Every so often blue holes appear, and when they do it's worth zipping towards them as fast as you can, because they don't hang around for long. If you can catch it and nip inside you're given the option of either playing a bonus game or going up to a higher level.

The holes appear on these planets.

PLANET ONE: Go to the first gun then go diagonally up and left.

PLANET THREE: This one's invisible. Head for the middle of the circling robots with your shields off.

PLANET EIGHT: Go to the top of the screen and keep flying right.

PLANET NINE: As on Planet Eight, go to the top of the screen and head right. But, watch out! If you choose the bonus game be careful not to run into a mine as one touch will destroy you!

PLANET 12

PASSWORD: DGGMBDBBXWB

WATCH OUT FOR: Darters and Laser Launchers.

BUY: Smart Bomb

PLANET TEN

PASSWORD: DQBBMBBMLHB

WATCH OUT FOR: Mega-Gravity Planets and Darter.

BUY: Momentum Killer and Smart Bomb

GRADIUS

This cheat works only once per game. Pause then press up, up, down, down, left, then the left button (on top of the pad), then right button, left button, A then B. This gives extra weapons! Ta muchly to Bill Gosch of Cheshunt, Hertfordshire.

GAMEBOY

BURAI FIGHTER

Codes for the later levels on this shoot 'em up have been sent in by Stuart Austin of Finstall, Worcs. They are:

LEVEL TWO: HGKM LEVEL THREE: CPFG
LEVEL FOUR: JJCM LEVEL FIVE: DLKF

NEMESIS

Paul Bush of Teddington, Middlesex has discovered the way to the bonus stage and wants to share his knowledge with the world. On level two, near to the end, you pass a square-looking robot. There are two codas; shoot the one at the top of the screen and then fly through the space at the bottom - and now you're in the bonus game!

TRANSBOT

Simon Davies of I'm-not-sure-where has sent in a number of tips for Sega games. For this one, turn on the power base while holding down both buttons. The title screen now appears after four or five seconds along with the secret command menu. To turn the option on push the joystick in the following sequence: up once, down twice, right four times and left thrice.

OPTION ONE: Infinite lives

OPTION TWO: Infinite weapons and ammo

OPTION THREE: Infinite power

OPTION FOUR: Slow cycling on the weapons selection

To get on to the underground section of the game, select Weapon D and shoot the three alien 'Hiluns' when they appear. The screen should stop scrolling and allow Transbot to enter the under-tunnel. You should now be facing the Elgramzom.

ZILLION I

That rascal of unknown origins, Simon Davies, has provided some juicy cheats for this game. Input a MAP command into a computer and go to room D3 (DO NOT collect any 'Opa-Opas' on the way). Shoot the cylinder furthest to the right on the top deck. An Opa-Opa should now appear. Collect this and your life power should now go to 720. Go half off the screen so that the lift is still visible. Go into the lift and let the yellow barrier reduce your life to 120. Quickly pull down on the joystick and return to the room in which you started. Your life force should now be 000 because you are invincible. Zowwieee!

CYBORG HUNTER

Another tip from Andrew Scott of Australia! Find a power-up somewhere then enter an elevator on the same floor. Now you can get another power-up. This can be done as many times as you want.

KINGBIT GAMES: 9 CALEDONIAN RD, EDINBURGH, EH11 2DA. TEL 031 337 9610

Sim City is a classic game concept without a shadow of a doubt and the Super Famicom version is the best yet! The only problem is that the majority of the text in the game is in Japanese! So, MEAN MACHINES is proud to present a brill player's guide for the game, along with a set of cunning tips!

GETTING STARTED

So, you're confronted with a large open expanse of land, and you want to create a city. The first thing to do is find a place to put down a power plant. Choose a secluded area, away from where you're going to put your residential neighbourhoods (would you like to live next to a smoke-spewing power plant?). Industrial and commercial areas are your next concern; make sure the transport communications between all areas are good.

QUESTION MARKS?

The Question Mark icon at the bottom of the icon display is quite special. If it's flashing, a special building can be added to your landscape! These buildings include the likes of your house, the bank, casinos and fun fairs! Some of these buildings are purely cosmetic. Others lead the way to different screens, like the special 3D-ish view!

THE TAX SHEET

Choosing this option reveals the complex tax sheet. The figure at the top is the tax level you levy on the Sims. This can be altered to whatever you want, but remember that the Sims get pretty upset if the tax level is too high and will leave if they feel they're shelling out too much.

If you're puzzling over what the text next to the percentage symbols means, puzzle no longer. The top text reads PUBLIC SERVICES, and the figure means how much money is required to keep the service (roads, railways, etc) going. If you give 100% then they get the full amount. This can be changed if you want. Much the same applies for the next two sections, which read POLICE DEPT and FIRE DEPT. Put simply, this is the screen where your overheads are deducted - if you've got the cash that is.

HEAVY TRAFFIC!

If your city is graced with an airport, a helicopter regularly patrols your city. This airborne angel reports any incidence of heavy traffic that may occur, thus enabling you to act quicker in relieving the automobile-related stress.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

The top percentage figure show how many people think you're doing a good job on this opinions screen. The next figure is how many people think you're making a right mess of the city. The right-hand column begins with the population of your city, followed by the amount of people who've moved to your city since the last year. The last, hopefully very large, figure is how much your city is worth as a whole! Cor!

GROWING PAINS

Once your city has developed into a sprawling metropolis, keeping a track of individual buildings' growth can be a tad difficult. To make this task easier, simply select the magnifying glass icon. This clearly labels all of the buildings on-screen, and shows how well developed they are.

THE CONTROL PANEL

For those new to Sim City, the masses of icons must seem a tad bewildering, so check out this lovely icon guide to solve all your pointer-related blues.

LOAD 'N' SAVE

Two saved positions can be stored on your Super Famicom cart. These are identified by the year and the status of your city (1944 METROPOLIS, for example). Be careful not to save over one of your cities!

RESIDENTIAL RULES

The beaches are very important in Sim City. Place residential areas along the coastline and you can expect the area to grow incredibly quickly, and it'll be worth a bomb too! A warning though, don't bulldoze the beach - or your properties lose all their value! Also, make sure there's only one road or rail in or out of a residential area - the noise pollution from trains and cars brings the property value down.

SEASONS TO BE CHEERFUL: PART THREE

All four seasons are faithfully replicated in Sim City, and each has an effect on your city. The spring and summer usually bring your little Sims scurrying into your establishment, whilst the autumn and winter months see the Sims leave for sunnier climes.

Jazza's off living it up in the USA at the moment, so "gamely" standing in for him on the Tips Helpline is Paul Glancey, who, he says, is the next best thing.

Anyway, if you're stuck in a dungeon, or a boss is getting the better of you, send in your problem to us here at the Helpline, and we'll try to use our vast console-gaming experience to help you out. Send your query to TIPS HELPLINE, MEAN MACHINES, PRIORY COURT, 30-32 FARRINGTON LANE, LONDON, EC1R 3AU. Please make sure it states TIPS HELPLINE very clearly on the envelope or the post-sorting minion gets all confused and has to lie down in a darkened room. Ta!

Oh, and by the way, when you write in, don't forget to say exactly what the game is (you'd be surprised how many don't) and the machine it's on. Also, try to be specific about where you're having trouble. Don't just say, "I'm stuck in Teenage Mutant Hero Turtles, please help" or we won't be able to answer.

Finally, can we just make it completely clear that we NEVER, EVER give personal replies, even if you do send a stamped, addressed envelope. Sorry, but if we answered every letter we got we would never have time to write the mag. And then we'd all be sorry (especially Oz who's a sensitive soul).

TIPS HELP

TEENAGE TURTLE TRAPPED!

Dear Jaz,

Hi there. I am stuck on level three of Teenage Mutant Hero Turtles for the Nintendo. Where is it? Mr Jan de Brauw, Barford St Martin.

PAZ: If you mean, "where is level three?", you can't have disarmed all the bombs in the lake on level two. As soon as the eighth bomb has been defused, you go straight to level three. Easy, see?

FINAL RIP-OFF

Dear Jaz,

I read in another mag that there is a two-player mode hidden in Super Famicom Final Fight. It says you should go to the options screen and select tune 99, but try as I might, I can't get the tip to work. Any ideas?

Darren Weston, Cambridge

PAZ: We've had quite a few calls about this "tip" and I'm telling you now - IT DOESN'T WORK! There is no way you can select tune 99 on the sound test, because there aren't enough tunes in the game! Besides, if the programmers had put a two player option in the game, why would they want to hide it?

CRUSHED BY CASTLEVANIA

Dear Jaz,

I'm stuck on the third level of Castlevania on the Game Boy. My problem is when I have stopped the first ceiling from caving in on me, the second ceiling starts to come in, but I don't know how I can stop it or avoid it. Can you help me please?

Narvir Sidhu, Derbyshire

PAZ: If I understand you correctly, all you need to do is walk under the dent in the roof, duck, then when you've got room to stand up, run right and whip the screw four times to stop that part coming down again.

LINK GETS HAMMERED

Dear Jaz,

Is there a hammer or raft on level one or two of Adventure of Link. If so, where?

ESWAT IMPRISONED E-SWATTER!

Dear Jaz,

I can't work out how to get out of the prison on level two of Megadrive E-SWAT. Could you please explain as it's driving me crazy.

David Gooderham, Sible Hedingham

PAZ: DRIVING you crazy? You must be crazy not to have worked it out for yourself. Actually, I'm a fine one to talk because it had me a little confused the first time I played it. Go through the two IN signs on the ground floor, then when you've completed those you have to go back to the starting point, where a lift will be waiting (that's the bit that got me confused). Take the lift up to the top right of the prison and go through the IN sign, then work your way back down, falling through the gaps in the platforms. When you see the GO arrow which leads to the two bosses, make sure you jump the gap or you'll have to start again from the beginning.

He's Greg Martin of 8 Duchray Drive, Ralston, Paisley, Scotland, PA1 3BW.

SEGA MEGAPLAYERS

The games that T Abdo of 37 Blackwood Rd, Streethy, W Mids, B74 3PL is offering help on are Fantasy Zone I and III, Alex Kidd in Miracle World, Golden Axe, Psycho Fox, Spy Vs Spy, Double Dragon, Basketball Nightmare and Dead Angel.

Michael Long from 104 Whalley Avenue, St Helens, Merseyside, WA10 6PS can help anyone stuck on Altered Beast, Vigilante, Golden Axe, Chase HQ, Double Dragon, Thunderblade, Hang-On, Wonderboy III, Safari Hunt, Marksman Shooting and Action Fighter.

If Alex Kidd in Miracle World, Wonderboy II or III, Psycho Fox, Chase HQ, R-Type or Rambo are proving trouble, contact Thomas Varlow, 75 Greenshaw Drive, Haxby, York, YO38 6g

A pair of Megaplayers willing to help out on Sega games are Nigel Wykes and Steven Fewell who live at 84 Salisbury Road, Gravesend, Kent, DA14 7DE. They're experts at RC Grand Prix, Vigilante, Dynamite Duo, Shinobi, Golden Axe, Double Dragon, Rastan, California Games, Enduro Racer, Chase HQ, Pro Wrestling, Kung-Fu Kid, Psycho Fox, Wonderboy III and Altered Beast.

Carl Busby is a pretty good player. His specialised games are: Alex Kidd and the Lost Stars, Altered Beast, Spy Vs Spy, Basketball Nightmare, Psycho Fox, Pro Wrestling and Wonderboy III. If you need any help on those games, write to him at 293 Westmore Avenue, Acton, London, W3 0PP.

If you're stuck on Y's, Spellcaster, Phantasy Star, Ghostbusters, Rambo Rastan, Alex Kidd in High-Tech World, Wonderboy II, I and III, Golevius, Shinobi, Psycho Fox, Kung-Fu or RC Grand Prix, why not write to Mark Betts, Cobblers, Chapel Road, Lower Southey, Norwich, Norfolk, NR1 1BW?

A Sega Master System Megaplayer who knows a wealth of games is Robert Williams of 42 Kenneth Road, Chiswell Heath, Romford, Essex, RM6 6LL. He knows Psycho Fox, Golden Axe, Rastan, R-Type, Wonderboy III, World Soccer, Shinobi, Thunderblade, Alex Kidd and the Lost Stars, Dynamite Duo, Kick Adventure, Truxton and California Games. If you're stuck on any of those games, why not write to him?

Any one who needs help on Basketball Nightmare, California Games, Golden Axe, Rastan, Shinobi, Vigilante, World Soccer, Super Tennis or Rescue Mission can write off to Paul Hanson, 37 Penhurst Road, Ipswich, Suffolk, IP3 8QY.

Calvin Holbrook of 3 Willton Road, Shanklin, Isle of Wight, PO57 7DA is a Sega Megaplayer, and is offering advice to anyone who writes to him. He knows Wonderboy II, I and III, Alex Kidd in Miracle World, Ghost House, Phantasy Star and Alex Kidd in High-Tech World.

If you're having hassle with any of these Sega titles: Afterburner, Outrun, Choplifter, Double Dragon, Captain Silver, Wonderboy II, Enduro Racer, Vigilante, Rampage, California Games, Miracle Warriors, Scramble Spirits, My Hero, Fantasy Zone, Alex Kidd in Shinobi World or Global Defence, write to Hassan Said-Ude, 8 Cefur Road, Hove, East Sussex, BN3 6EF.

Another Megaplayer volunteer is James Smith, 2B Balcarres Road, Musselburgh, East Lothian, Scotland. He's a whizz on the following Sega games: Choplifter, Afterburner, Alex Kidd in High-Tech World, Rambo III, Double Dragon, Wonderboy, Bomber Raid and Kung-Fu Kid.

NINTENDO MEGAPLAYERS

If you live in Berkshire or thereabouts, Peter Nightingale, 44 Mellong Close, Lower Eyer, Reading, Berkshire, RG6 2XN might have the answers you're looking for. He knows the following Nintendo games - Trojan, Super Mario Bros, Soccer, Tiger Hill, Xevious, Alinolf and Skate or Die.

Nintendo players can ask Carl Busby for help. He knows Ghosts 'n' Ghosts, Megaman, Balloon Fight, Rymar, Super Mario II, Excitebike and Baiter. Write to him on the address above.

Another Nintendo Megaplayer is John Molnar of 64 Champion Close, Rowlands Hill, Rowlands Hill, Leicester, LE5 4EX. He's an expert on Super Mario Bros I and II, Batman, Cobra Triangle, Pro Wrestling, Track and Field II, Gunsmoke, Life Force, Rush 'n' Attack, Tennis and Gradus.

Paul Brown of 97 Windmill Hill, Enfield, Middx, EN2 7AJ is offering super tricks and tips to anyone who writes to him concerning Bionic Commando, Blades of Steel, Bubble Bobble, Castlevania II, Simon's Quest, Double Dragon, Lee Trevino's Fighting Golf, Legend of Zelda, Megaman, Megaman II, Metal Gear, RC Pro Am, Super Mario Bros, Super Mario Bros II, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, Tetris, Tiger Hill and Zelda II.

Stuck on Legend of Zelda, Tiger Hill, Ninja Turtles, Alinolf, RC Pro Am, Cobra Triangle, Batman or Ghost 'n' Goblins? Write to Jamie Hutchinson at 57 Lord Avenue, Clayhall, Redbridge, Essex, IG5 0HN.

Don't forget - and this is very important indeed - if you write to a Megaplayer, make sure you enclose a stamped addressed envelope for your reply, or you won't get one. Okay?

Richard Waudby, Beverly.

PAZ: I don't know what you mean by levels one and two, but perhaps this will make it clearer. To get the hammer you'll need to cross the bridge at the water town of Saria, and to do that, you'll need the letter from Bagu (he lives in the forest nearby somewhere). Once across the bridge, head south until you're in the maze of clearings. Get through this (keep going right, whenever you have the option) and you should be east of a clearing with a cave in its centre. The hammer is there. Before you can find the raft, you need to complete the palace in the swamp and head for the King's Tomb at the centre of the graveyard. From there, walk south until you fall into a warp which takes you to the island palace, the location of the raft.

BURNING THE BOSS

Dear Jaz,

I have bought Hellfire on the Megadive and I think it's very good. I've reached stage six, and I want to know if it's the last in the game. Also, I've got past the last four green ships and got onto a demon that looks like a cross between a motorbike and a spaceship. How the hell are you supposed to kill it? I've cleared most shoot 'em ups, but this one has me stumped.

Paul Harris, Leicester

PAZ: I had to enlist Gary's help on this one. It seems there are two ways to beat this guy. Either wait till he lowers his shield, dodge over the bullets he fires from his lance and use your diagonal lasers to shoot over the shield. If you're feeling really brave, you can fly directly over him and use vertical lasers on him. This means you don't have to worry about the shots from the lance, but watch out for the missiles that launch from the back of the ship.

COMMENT

Eggman alert! In a deal that shocked environmentalists everywhere, vile Dr Eggman has bought up a load of land just so he can capture its small furry inhabitants, brainwash them and put them inside his rocket-powered Cyberfauna suits. With his army of armoured animals, Eggman plans to terrorise the people of the world until they relent and promise to pay him lots of money.

Sonic, being a speedy blighter, is the hedgehog that got away. Now, of course, he's resolved to free his forest buddies by doing over Eggman and he has to leg it through six hazardous zones, each made up of three scrolling areas.

The landscape is packed with platform-type puzzles and terrifying terrain! Not only that - Eggman has despatched his robot-like forces to destroy Sonic before he can catch up with him! Luckily, Sonic is a powerhouse of athletic ability, and he can protect himself by curling into a ball and somersaulting into any enemies, skewering them on his spines!

To protect him still further, Sonic has to collect the power rings which are scattered throughout the landscape. If he bumps into an enemy the rings will protect him, but the collision makes him drop all those he was carrying. If Sonic stays out of trouble, every ring he gets to the end of the level earns him 100 points, and if he has over 50, he is instantly warped to the weirdo bonus game!

PAUL

Yep, it's true - Sonic is really great! I can't think of a Megadrive game with more spectacular graphics - even Mickey Mouse wasn't as visually exciting as this - and everything is just so fast and smooth it's just astonishing! The design of the levels and the obstacles is ingenious (the Labyrinth Zone is a blast!), and I love the fact that you can really explore the levels for different routes and secret rooms, rather than simply having to get from left to right. The instant-loss-of-all-rings factor tended to be a little frustrating, but it certainly didn't prevent me coming back to this game again and again. The wait has been worth it Megadrive fans - this is a game you MUST get!

MARBLE ZONE

Sonic moves into a marble domain in the second world, but soon has to go underground. The route to the end of each area is through subterranean mazes which are full of cascading streams of lava and spiked plungers! Watch out for secret rooms!

REVIEW

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG

SPECIAL STAGE SPINNING

If Sonic collects over 50 rings when he hits the end of a level, a massive ring appears. Travelling through this ring warps Sonic to a strange revolving maze, where bonus rings and mysterious Chaos Emeralds are hidden. What these emeralds actually do isn't revealed until later on into the game, but if he collects enough points during this special stage, Sonic is rewarded with a continue for his efforts! Hurrah!

▼ Wahey! Sonic beats Egghead and releases his cuddly captives!

BOXES O' TRICKS

Located on every level are boxes which Sonic can bust open to reveal some rather useful icons.

SONIC BOXES A handy extra life. These are another bonus usually hidden in those secret places.

MAGIC SHOES Make Sonic even faster than he already is! These only last a short while, but they can be the key to reaching otherwise unattainable parts of a level.

RINGS Awards Sonic ten rings. Usually to be found in secret rooms or other areas he wouldn't normally pass through.

SPARKLES Makes Sonic invulnerable for a short period. Very handy for getting past those large, dangerous obstacles.

SHIELD Protects Sonic from a single hit - after that, only his rings can protect him!

▲ That spring can propel Sonic to the end of the level.

COMMENT

RICH

After about fifteen zillion millennia of waiting, Sonic's finally here, and it's almost as fabby as Sega would have us believe! The graphics are truly tremendous, with superlative backdrops and super sprites. I cannot stress too much the graphical excellence of this game - it is definitely the best looking Megadrive game yet seen, even more attractive than the Super Famicom's Mario 4! The speed of the game is incredible and when Sonic gets the supra-speed trainers, boy, does he shift! Playability-wise, Sonic's great, although I found that the gameplay does get a little frustrating after a while, especially as there's a few almost impossible situations the hapless hedgehog can find himself in. I'm bound to get billions of 'phone calls asking if it's better than Mario 4, and whilst Sonic's a brill game, it just doesn't have the depth to match Nintendo's masterpiece. Still, I must admit that Sonic is one of the best Megadrive games I've ever played! Buy, buy, buy!

END-OF-LEVEL
EGGHEAD

At the end of each zone, Sonic is confronted by Egghead himself who is intent on sealing the spiny speedster's doom. Egghead floats about the screen in his Eggship, which is armed with a different weapon each time. In the first zone he is armed with a mighty ball and chain, and later on he has a fire-sprewing death cannon and a deadly spike to butcher the heroic hedgehog!

LABYRINTH ZONE

Sonic travels over and underwater in this domain populated by mechanical fish and drill-nosed monkeys. Unfortunately, he can only hold his breath for a certain length of time so he has to look out for the air bubbles which leak out from cracks in the ground - they're Sonic's only lifeline!

SPRINGYARD ZONE

The landscape becomes a macabre form of pinball table in this level, with our prickly little hero being spanged around in all directions on contact with the star-spangled platforms and springboards. Push against the walls whenever you get the chance because secret ring stashes are everywhere!

STAR CONTROL

Aaaieee! The evil hierarchy is attacking everything the good Alliance holds dear! There's only one way to send these intergalactic ships for a one-on-one battle to the death!

Star Control is a space combat game played head-to-head against either a human or computer opponent with four selectable intelligence settings.

The basic game is played around two phases of dogfights. Each fleet has eight completely different ships, and both players simply choose one and take into combat. The battle takes place over a single screen. When the combatants are far apart, the game is played at a distance with ship silhouettes. As the players move closer, the game zooms in and the ships get bigger - close up, they're played very large, so you can see just exactly how much damage your weapons are doing.

The object of the game is simply to destroy your opponent by hitting all his crew when hit sustained damage off one of his men, and his crew bar diminishes accordingly. A complete depleted bar results in the ship exploding in a nuclear flash.

When the game is over, the loser chooses a new ship to battle the victor with, and the overall winner of the contest can choose to play on the ship with the opponent's fleet.

There are 14 ships featured in Star Control. Dotted around the review you'll find profiles of seven of the most deadly ships. All of the ships in the game have a different main attack weapon, along with a custom device. Pressing the B button fires the main weapons, and these range from rapid-fire lasers to cruise missile launchers! The custom device for each ship is fired up with the C button. Some ships have extra weapons (missiles and the like), whilst others have more interesting units like cloaking devices, shields and warp-units!

VUX INTRUDER

The Vux craft shoots out blobs of green fungus which eventually cover the opponent's ship making it slower and less manoeuvrable. Then it can move in and destroy its target with its close-quarter laser.

ONE-ON-ONE LASER DEATH

Star Control has a close-quarters laser that enables you to destroy any other Hierarchy ship for a one-on-one laser battle. This means that it's possible to have the same ship facing you in one position in a potential explosive space shot. But a good laugh can be had from this as well as the other Hierarchy ships.

Two Ur-Quan battleships meet for practice combat!

PROFILE HIERARCHY

MYCON PODSHIP

The Mycon ship has mega-powered plasma bolts as its main weapon. Once it is up to full power it regenerates crew members - useful in a long battle!

PROFILE ALLIANCE

EARTHLING CRUISER

Slow, but highly manoeuvrable. Its heat-seeking missiles are excellent for long range combat, and its point defence lasers are useful at close quarters.

STRATEGY!

Adding a bit of lasting power to the game is a strategy option where there are a host of scenarios. The Alliance player has a number of starbases to defend against superior Hierarchy forces. For example in the first scenario the Hierarchy have the Ur-Quan ship while the Alliance have to make do with the weedy self-destructing Shofixit!

RICH

Star Control is one of the best Megadrive games I've had the pleasure to play - in two-player melee mode. Each ship has its own strengths and weaknesses: one moment the remote fighters of your mighty battleship might be wiping the floor with your opponent, and then he comes up with a ship equipped with superior firepower AND a special laser designed to deal with your fighters! It's the sheer amount of ships that makes Star Control last so long. My favourite ship has to be the Klingon Bird of Prey-alike (it's even got the cloaking device!). In one-player mode, a lot of the game is lost, simply because roasting the backside of your pal is such a good laugh. Star Control is one the greatest two-player games you'll ever play, but if you're going to be playing on your lonesome, you'd best give this a miss.

COMMENT

In the two-player head-to-head stakes, this takes first prize. It's brilliant fun taking on another human player and using cunning, skill and tactics to take out his fleet.

JULIAN Many of my lunchtimes (and beyond) have been taken up with very noisy mega-battles with Gary Harrod! Playing it on you just isn't anywhere near as much fun - even the excellent presentation, brilliant sampled sound effects (see how many old b-movie sounds you can identify!) and a weirdo strategy game don't help. I think it's simply because you can't turn to the Megadrive and shout gleefully at it when you've just wiped out its best ship! So think long and hard before you buy this game - if you've always got a second player to kick ass with, it's highly recommended. Solo players just won't get value for money out of the product.

An evil empire has arrived from outer space and is threatening to conquer the entire Earth! They've already dispatched battleships to build massive installations on the planet's surface, and have infested the land with attack craft! Earth's defence controllers are more than a bit miffed about this and have summoned the elusive Captain Skyhawk for help.

Captain Skyhawk's the hunkiest hero available, and is also a bit of a dab hand when it comes to flying an F-14 Tomcat. He's also got his own customised, souped-up F-14 fueled and ready for instant use. His ship can hover in mid-air like a Harrier jump-jet, travel into space like the Space Shuttle, and carry more weapons than a B52 blanket bomber!

His main objective is to destroy the four installations that the enemy have created, but there's loads of sub-missions in the game that Skyhawk must carry out before he can claim to be victorious!

★★★★★ CAPTAIN SKYHAWK

UP-THE-SCREEN ANNIHILATION

Most of the game is set over a multi-directionally scrolling 3D landscape, with Skyhawk travelling up the screen in his trusty F-14. This part of the game depicts Skyhawk's low-level strafing of enemy targets. The action changes once Skyhawk reaches the end of the level...

COMMENT

Rare aren't usually ones to disappoint when it comes to Nintendo games and Captain Skyhawk is yet another example of a brilliant game. The graphics are excellent, the sprites are varied and well-animated (especially Skyhawk's F-14) and the backdrops are brill. The sound's decent as well with accomplished tunes and spot-on effects. But it's the playability that counts and

RICH

Captain Skyhawk is simply superb! The inertia on the F-14 is excellent, and the game is very challenging with loads of levels to conquer. I particularly like the level where the wings stay swept back, and Skyhawk has to negotiate the landscape travelling at super-sonic speeds without crashing! To be perfectly honest, Captain Skyhawk is one of the finest NES action games out - and it's certainly the best Nintendo game I've played since Snake, Rattle and Roll.

CAPTAIN SKYHAWK

NINTENDO REVIEW

BLINKING FLIP

Being a bit of an ace flyer, Captain Skyhawk is capable of all sorts of aerial antics. His party trick is the amazing 360 degree barrel roll. This is great for avoiding enemy fire and missiles, but watch you don't barrel roll into a cliff face!

▲ Bomb the Base!

DOCKING WITH SKYHAWK HQ

The last section of a particular mission sees Skyhawk attempting to dock with his base in outer space. The problem is that the base is spinning and Skyhawk has to time his own spin correctly if he's to enter his own base without harm.

SKYHAWK SHOPPERAMA

Special Skyhawk money is given for each enemy target successfully destroyed. This can be used at the Skyhawk Shop to gain extra weapons.

25mm CANNON

The most essential weapon in the Skyhawk armoury. This can be powered up five times at ten credits a shot. A top-power cannon should be your first objective, it's the most powerful weapon by far!

AIM54 MISSILES

These come in handy for taking out stray jets in the Afterburner-style section of the game. One press of the B button locks the missile onto target. The next sends it on its way!

MAVERICK MISSILES

Skyhawk buys his own special brand of Maverick missiles. These babies spread explosive warheads in three directions on release, thus destroying a larger area. Useful for the main enemy bases.

HAWK BOMBS

Annihilate a large area with the aid of these cheap Hawk bombs! Their explosive power comes in handy when taking on the enemy, and at only two creds a shot you can't go far wrong!

BOMB THE BASE

Destroying these bases is the key to the game. To make them explode, Skyhawk simply has to shoot the four orbs and then centre his fire on the control tower in the middle of the complex. But these bases are heavily armed. So Skyhawk had better watch out for the heavy flak.

REVIEW

SPECIAL MISSIONS!

Sometimes, instead of blowing up a base, Skyhawk is directed to carry out a special mission. The first involves dropping off supplies to allied forces, the second involves rescuing a valuable professor that the enemy have kidnapped! This involves blasting away at various forcefield generators that are holding the poor Prof captive.

▲ Watch out for shrapnel!

▲ C'mon! Lock on!

▲ Mission completed. Now for the next sortie.

COMMENT

JULIAN

Captain Skyhawk is one of the smoothest and fastest blasting games I've seen on the Nintendo, and I love it! The up-the-screen sections are very challenging, with hazards whizzing by beneath you and things to blast out of the sky and strafe on the ground. At top speed you really have to rely on your reflexes to guide the plane safely around the hills and through the rather thin valleys without crashing! The other sections add plenty of variety to the action, and the end result is a brilliant-looking, reaction-testing blaster with loads of high-speed action.

WIN A MEGADRIVE!

0839 121 140

Wa-hey-hey-hey! A topper Sega Megadrive is going to someone who dials this magic number and answers a few super-simple questions - so what are you waiting for?

WIN A GAMEBOY!

0839 121 174

This ultimate Portable Playmate could be yours, and for hardly any effort. Just exercise your dialing skills, then get those few easy questions right and you could be Tetris-ing on the toilet in no time.

WIN £150 WORTH OF GAMES!

0839 121 188

Ok, so you've got a console already. Well, why not get some free games for it? We're giving away a load of software to someone who dials this number and gets all the questions right - how much easier can we make it?

WIN A GAME GEAR!

0839 121 189

The newest handheld on the block is Sega's saucy little Game Gear and we're going to be handing one over to someone who calls the Game Gear hotline. Even a moron will be able to answer our staggeringly easy questions, so why not give it a try?

WIN A SUPER FAMICOM!

0839 121 187

The best console in the whole cosmoVerse is up for grabs on this line. Two superb games come with this tremendous prize, which comes in SCART or PAL form (please specify which you'd like on your entry). Get on the line - NOW!

IF YOU'RE UNDER 18, PLEASE MAKE SURE YOU HAVE THE PERMISSION OF WHOEVER PAYS YOUR PHONE BILL BEFORE YOU DIAL. ALL CALLS ARE CHARGED AT 33p PER MINUTE (CHEAP RATE) OR 44p (ALL OTHER TIMES). NO PROGRAMME IS LONGER THAN THREE MINUTES. ALL PROGRAMMES ARE OPERATED BY BROADSYSTEMS LTD.

WIN A SUPER FAMICOM!!

USING YOUR SUPERB MEAN MACHINES GLOW-IN-THE-DARK STICKERS!!

USE YOUR GLOW-IN-THE-DARK STICKERS TO WIN ONE OF FOUR SUPER FAMICOMS!

Ok, two questions. First, who hasn't got £300 in their pockets? One, two... Hmmm, there's a lot of you out there.

Ok, second question. Who wants a Super Famicom? Woah! Looks like every one of you!

Ok, well, this is your chance to get hold of one of these amazing consoles for nothing! MEAN MACHINES in association with Computer and Video Games is giving away a total of four Super Famicoms, two of which will go to MEAN MACHINES readers and two of which will go to CVG readers!

You will have noticed that on the cover of the June and July issues of MEAN MACHINES and Computer and Video Games there were some fab glow-in-the-dark stickers given away free. Also on each sticker sheet, there was a Competition Token and you'll need all four to enter this amazing giveaway.

Just get your four Competition Tokens and stick them in the appropriate places on the entry form on this page. Then just answer the super-easy questionette on the form and Bob will be your uncle. Or at least he will be once you've put your name and address on there, put it in an envelope and sent it toooo...

Joe Mushashi's back (again), this time in his fifth outing courtesy of Sega. This time though, Joe's more than a bit upset. Not surprising really when you consider that those fiendish Zeed fellows have captured four of his oldest ninja chums, and have used a magic spell to make them turn against the forces of good - and that includes Joe himself!

Old Joe's obviously more than anxious to release his pals from this evil spell - but the only way he can do this is to beat them all into submission in a bit of one-on-one combat! Each ninja is hiding at the end of an eight-way scrolling landscape, and before Joe can have a shot at releasing his pal, his first job is to beat up the Zeed contingent and beat a path through to the end of the level. However, the good news is that once Joe's released one of the captured ninja, he can use their special abilities and magic powers as well as his own!

A CASE OF ICONITIS

Dotted around the landscape are box-like containers and Mr. Mushashi can chop these open to reveal many strange and wonderful icons. Watch out for extra lives, extra energy, ninja magic and energy power-ups that increase the length of Joe's energy bar! GG Shinobi's booby prize is a massive bomb. Come anywhere near these explosive items and Joe's energy bar suffers accordingly.

RICH

The only decent Game Gear product I'd seen before this was Mickey Mouse - and that was a blatant tax of the Master System game. Now GG Shinobi's arrived, and it's brill, skill, and not a thinly-veiled Master System rip-off! Hurrah! The ninja action is smooth and varied, and mastering each ninja's abilities takes quite a while. For example, the valley level was really giving me grief until I discovered the yellow ninja's water-walking abilities! In fact the only thing that stopped me enjoying GG Shinobi to the full was the Game Gear's sticky, yet wobbly joypad. Still, to be perfectly honest, if you're a Game Gear owner, there's no excuse not to pick up this cracking ninja game ASAP. Get the message?

VALLEY

The battle against the Zeed reaches the rooftops - of passing cars! Here, Joe speeds up his journey to the first base by using passing cars as stepping stones. Once he's reached the first Zeed base, and beaten the inhabitants to pulp, he faces up to the pink ninja in a do-or-die battle!

HIGHWAY

As a river rushes by below, Joe negotiates a terrifying cliff face, ever vulnerable to Zeed attack. Logs roll by on the river, and these can be used as platforms. Inside the cliff, there's a small Zeed base (where the blue ninja is being held), but the enemy are at their most dangerous!

WOODLAND

Shinobi takes to the treetops in order to rescue the green ninja. But the Zeed are guarding him well, with all sorts of ninja sporting some evil weaponry (like flying sawblades, for example). After the forest, it's time to risk a suicidal assault on a ninja-ridden Zeed hideout!

HARBOUR

The yellow ninja's held in a boat, and it's down to Joe to rescue him. However, before he can even get near the boat itself he's got to deal with the Zeed base hidden cunningly in the harbour! Once all of Joe's chums have been safely rescued, it's off to Neo City for the final confrontation!

JULIAN

To be honest, there's been nothing yet on the Game Gear that has really grabbed my interest (Mickey Mouse is good, but it's exactly the same as the Master System). Until now, GG Shinobi has at last given me an excuse to blow the dust off my machine and buy some batteries for it! Sporting excellent graphics and some genuinely addictive gameplay, this is a superlative beat 'em up. The action is exciting and challenging, and there are many neat aspects which keep you coming back for more. Although it's only available on import at the moment, GG Shinobi is a must if you can track it down. If you can't find it, it's out officially later on this summer - so you've got plenty of time to start saving your pennies.

REVIEW

King of the Zoo™

When it comes to finding out who is the hardest animal in the zoo, they don't fight it out tooth and claw. They just get put a bag of balls on the table and play this wacky game.

Two animals compete at a time and because this is a Game Link pak, they can be two human players. Each player stands at opposite ends of the table, armed with five balls, and within 60 seconds they have to get as many of their balls to their opponent's end of the table. If one player can get rid of all ten balls he wins and gets a perfect score!

Of course, the best way to slow down an opponent is to roll a ball straight at him, knocking him out momentarily!

COMMENT

This is an absurdly simple game, but as usual with absurdly simple games it's good fun. It plays like that old board game, Crossfire, so there's not really an awful lot of skill required. Each game is just a frenzy of grabbing the balls and chucking them at your opponent, and with two players this is a great laugh. If you're after a good two player pak, King of the Zoo is definitely worth considering.

PAUL

ANIMAL MAGIC

When you're playing against the computer each of the five animals has different ball-rolling talents. Fast characters can dodge more easily, but the stronger creatures can roll harder and faster. The most skillful animals can aim their balls more accurately, and so are more likely to hit you when you're playing against them.

PENGUIN: Average speed, strength and skill, make the penguin a good, but predictable opponent.

COW: Slow, but very strong, and if you knock her down she recovers quickly.

RABBIT: Very quick, but of only average skill. Still no pushover, though.

BAT: Surprisingly, one of the best players. He is fast, is a good shot and is difficult to hit.

RAT: Difficult to see, let alone hit. A slow roller, but clever, and he'll trap you given half a chance.

JULIAN

I bought King of the Zoo on import a while ago when it was called Penguin War, and many's the train journey that's been livened up by this odd-ball game. My only reservation about giving it a higher rating is that solo players may well get bored of the game pretty quickly, but if you're playing against another person, King of the Zoo is great fun. Try it and see!

MEGADRIVE*REVIEW

The Earth Elemental Emperor Gralkor the Cruel (or Gralky-babes to his mates, of which he has few) is a bit miffed. Those pesky humans, elves, gnomes and dwarves have covered the lands with their towns and farms and they just won't go away. However, the smelly mortals have lost the Orb of Power and the Talons that hold it. Without the Orb to protect them, the population is at Gralkor's mercy, so someone has to get out there and find it!

Might and Magic: Gates To Another World is a fantasy role-playing game set in a mystical land. The task is to lead a party of brave adventurers through the cities, dungeons and wildernesses on their quest to recover the Orb and Talons. Spell-users add magic to the party's arsenal, and fighters have the muscle necessary to beat up monsters. Thieves pick locks, detect and remove traps and generally act in a helpfully sneaky manner.

The locations are viewed through a 3D window in the display and when monsters are around, they're shown here. Killing these creatures gives the party experience and the chance to gather booty, which allows them to buy goods in the shops and taverns of the realm. Eventually the quest leads to the Orb itself, but along the way the party faces monsters, disease, and a host of other repulsive fates. The current game can be saved to battery-backed RAM so that the adventure can be continued at a later date.

COMMENT

PAUL

What puts me off most RPGs is the long-winded combat-by-rounds system which I find boring, and unfortunately that's the system used in Might and Magic. My first battle was against two orcs and it took about five minutes of command selection to defeat them - five minutes of not-much-excitement, I'm afraid. Making the game a little more interesting is the wide variety of monsters, though some of them rather unlikely - how about being attacked by a ravenous gang of witch's cats, or a couple of small dinosaurs who were wandering the city streets. The game has a lot of depth and there's wide scope for character development but anyone who isn't already a keen role-player won't appreciate it, and may well find the lack of action and atmosphere make Might and Magic a real drag.

MIGHT and MAGIC

Gates To Another World

CHARACTER BUILDING

A pre-generated party comes supplied with the game, but most players will want to make their own group of characters to explore the world. The program generates a random set of statistics, and the player has to select one of eight classes and a race for the character, bearing in mind that certain races are better at things than others (for example dwarves make excellent fighters but crappy spell-users). Make your character male or female then choose his or her alignment to make your party either a bunch of goody-two-shoes or a group of marauding brigands!

REVIEW

COMMENT

MATT

I expected this to be somewhat disappointing but I was surprised to find that it's actually a lot better than Faery Tale Adventure. The graphics are a little basic but this sort of game needs playability rather than cosmetic touches - a lesson that FTA should have considered! The game is absolutely enormous, and the combat is sufficiently tough to keep you happy. Be careful of wandering about at night! Overall, this is one of the best RPGs to appear on the Megadrive so far. Try not to have a heart attack over the price though.

▲ Watch out for acid-spitting slime beasts!

▲ Even the plants aren't pleased to see you!

MIGHTY MAGIC

The spell-casters start off with weedy magic but once they begin to climb in levels they have access to powerful spells. A first level character only uses first level magic but once he's reached the seventh level of experience he can cast up to fourth level spells. Clerics advance the same way, and high-level archers and paladins get juicy spells as well. However keeping these frail people alive long enough is a serious problem!

▼ Well... he wasn't looking too healthy anyway.

CHESS

For centuries people all over the world have played this ancient game of strategy, so it comes as no surprise to find that console chess games are popping up all over the place. Last month we reviewed Chessmaster on the Gameboy and now we have Sega Chess on (oddly enough) the Master System.

The game plays in either overhead or 3D mode, the former being clearer and the latter being more attractive. Of course, all the rules of chess are applied including En Passant and Castling. Options include one or two players, sampled speech, the number of joypads used and the depth of the computer player's thinking if playing solo.

If you have trouble thinking up a good move to make, the computer provide a hint and if you really get stuck any number of moves can be taken back. Also it's possible to force the computer's move to stop it from having too long to think, and if none of that works, and defeat seems inevitable, you can even resort to swapping sides!

COMMENT

MATT

Chess is a great game, and I'm sorry that I don't get the chance to play as often as I would like. This certainly plays a good game of chess and the computer opponent is pretty tough to beat. However the two-player mode is a bit pointless - if you've got a friend to play then why not use a real board? Otherwise this Sega product simply plays the role of a glorified chess computer, with the addition of sampled speech which becomes annoying after a short time. I can't say there's anything much wrong with this, but I don't really see much point to it either.

▼ 3D mode - looks nice, dunnit?

▼ 2D mode - not quite so nice.

PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS

Unlike the speech the various special modes add a great deal to the game. The Problem mode sets up a specific chess problem for the player to solve, while Adaptive mode means that the computer will decide its move in the time the player took for his or hers. However, for a real challenge, choose Infinite mode - then the computer will take as long as it wants to make its mind up!

SS

▼ The options screen is quite extensive.

▲ Stuck? Try the hint icon.

SPEECH EFFECTS

The speech in the game is simply there to state the obvious. For example, if the player is using playing white and it's his go the machine says, "White move" - very informative! If the computer puts the player in check, the computer conveniently states, "Check". This really helps the kind of gamer who has some kind of vision defect.

RICH

a battle of strategies with a real human being, and using a console to reproduce a game that is far better played with another person and a five quid chess set seems a bit pointless. Solo chess maniacs will no doubt enjoy this game no end, especially with all the special modes, but those who want to really enjoy chess will buy a decent board and save the rest of their dosh for something else.

COMMENT

My interest in chess was recently re-kindled by the release of Chessmaster on the Gameboy. But even though this Sega chess game has some clear, well-defined graphics and interesting sonic touches, I don't think it has enough to warrant the massive price tag. It's not that the game is particularly bad, nor is the computer opponent a poor player, it's just that beating it simply isn't as much fun as a Ninja Ryu Hayabusa is out to shuriken some butt! His father Ken has been killed and in accordance with his last wishes, Ryu has taken the mystical Dragon Sword to America. But all is not well, and an evil gang want the sword so they can use it to revive the demon they worship.

Shadow Warrior, known in Japan and America as Ninja Gaiden, stars Ryu as he travels through America hacking and kicking foes as he goes. The game is split into six acts, which are in turn divided into a total of twenty sub-areas. Ryu starts in Galesburg then progresses through Death Valley and Yomi's Cave to the enemy hideout in the Temple of Darkness.

At the end of each act, Ryu has to take on the members of The Malice Four who control the actions of the gang. After defeating their leader, Bloody Malth (and his pet dog), Ryu has to fight the demon himself, and drive him back into the Underworld where he belongs!

COMMENT

The more I play this game, the more it reminds me of Nintendo Batman. The platform, leaping-between-walls gameplay is very similar, but then, seeing as Batman was one of the best NES games of 1990, that can't be a bad thing. Shadow Warrior's graphics aren't quite as stylish as Batman's but they still do a creditable job. The sprites are detailed and well-animated, and the Tecmo

PAUL

Theater interludes help supply a lot of atmosphere. Shadow Warrior is probably the best arcade-style Ninja game on the NES, so anyone after some Shinobi-type shuriken shenanigans can't go wrong buying this.

MYSTICAL WEAPONS

If Ryu can find them, he can make use of four different weapons which draw their power from his Spiritual Strength. When that's gone, the weapons are useless!

THROWING STAR

Primitive, and not very effective, but at least it kills the more irritating, weaker foes from a distance.

WINDMILL THROWING STAR

More powerful than the ordinary throwing star, and it has the extra effect of swinging backwards, boomerang-style.

THE ART OF FIRE WHEEL

An extension of the Invincible Fire Wheel. This lets Ryu create a fire wheel then cast it towards an enemy.

JUMP 'N' SLASH

Allows Ryu to perform spin jumps holding his sword so that anything he hits is instantly sliced into little bits suitable for stir-fry.

▲ The Barbarian on level one

COMMENT

MATT

The animation of the main sprite is so good that I was instantly impressed by this game, and I was pleased to find the rest of the game, in terms of graphics, sound and gameplay, is up to the same high standard. Don't be put off by the fact that you get an infinite number of continues - you won't be able to finish the game in half an hour, simply because there is so much to get through. The difficulty level is cleverly set, so that every time you lose a life you have to repeat the last part of the level anyway. Often this makes a game frustrating, but in Shadow Warrior it just made me more determined to nail more Ninja ass. Anyone who appreciates quality should make sure their piggy bank is full by September, then rush out and buy this, as it's the best arcade-style game on the NES for yonks.

NINJA BINGE

Interestingly enough, Ninja Gaiden was actually reviewed in issue zero of MEAN MACHINES (which was never in the shops), because it was originally scheduled for release last year. Since then, though, it seems that Ninjas have become a taboo subject in Britain, especially when they're the subject of a product aimed at kids (why d'you think the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles became the Teenage Mutant Hero Turtles?). Hence, Ninja Gaiden was transformed into Shadow Warrior. Shadow Warriors is a Tecmo arcade game, which, though similar (insofar as it's a beat 'em up), certainly shouldn't be confused with this Nintendo game.

▲ Welcome to "Tecmo Theater".

NINJA THEATRICS

Shadow Warrior features Tecmo's Tecmo Theater idea, which tells the story of the game with animated sequences between levels. There's a sequence at the beginning of each chapter to introduce characters like Irene Lew, the mysterious vamp, and Walter Smith the famous archaeologist. Finally Guardia de Mieux, who calls himself JAQUIO, reveals himself as the mastermind behind the plans. He's holed up in the temple ruins, and it's up to Ryu to teach him a lesson...

After the kidnapping of a beautiful princess, someone has to get her back, and slay the evil wizard responsible for the deed! This can mean only one man - the eponymous hero, Wardner, who swears to fight through the Wizard's evil troops and rescue the poor princess.

Wardner is a cute platform game, with our lad jumping and shooting his way across each level. Killing foes reveals money, and strategically placed power-ups give Wardner extra zapping ability.

The obligatory end-of-level guardians take their bows, ranging from the dragon on level one to the necromancer on the final stage. Wardner needs special tactics to defeat each monster and cannot rely on fire-power alone. There are plenty of surprises - the guardian on level two looks like the princess until it transmutes into a ferocious spider with a woman's head.

Between levels there's a shop which gives Wardner the opportunity to buy improved weapons, extra fairies (Gary Harrod's fave) or added time. Careful shopping is a must - but remember that all goods are non-returnable.

▲ Fighting level two's Spider-Boss,

WEAPONS OF WAR-DNER

There are four different weapons available to our hero during a game, here's a quick introduction to each.

This icon is very important. It powers-up Wardner's weaponry, and this level of power is kept even if he changes weapons!

DROOPY BALLS: These are thrown quite a long distance and then fall earthwards in an arc.

STRAIGHT BALLS: A lot like the droopy balls, apart from the fact that they aren't affected by gravity.

BENDY BALLS: These balls fire in massive curves, taking out targets perched on high platforms.

BIG BALLS: The most powerful balls kept in Wardner's pockets and very effective when they're whipped out against the baddies.

▲ Wardner goes for the big money, but ends up paying the price!

▲ Watch out for the ghoulies!

▲ Duck the fireballs!

NASTY SURPRISES

Things aren't quite what they seem in Wardner, and it's definitely not just a case of moving right across the scrolling landscape and firing blindly. For example on the first level tiny gun turrets, difficult to spot, open fire on the hero as soon as he climbs a rope. Later on he is attacked by giant flies who materialise once our man reaches the top of a stone ziggurat! Other surprises include indestructible eggs, whirling buzz-saws, and moving walkways!

▲ Wardner braves the flame cannon to grab the cash!

▲ Leap between the flames to cross the gap.

▲ A friendly owl helps out...

▲ ...as does a passing phoenix!

COMMENT

JULIAN

Although it features graphics that are a little fuzzy in places, this conversion of the mega-addictive Wardner coin-op is superb. It's got some of the best tunes yet heard on the Megadrive, more levels and new challenges (that weren't even in the original coin-op, and very challenging and highly addictive gameplay... as long as you don't use its pile of continues. As with a lot of Megadrive games, there are far too many continues, and they slow you to finish the game very quickly. If you want to get full value for money out of the game, play one credit at a time, and you'll find it takes plenty of platform skills and good reflexes to get all the way through the game and get a decent highscore. And as long as you remember that, I thoroughly recommend it.

MEET THE BEASTS

Wardner fights a weird array of monsters as he travels through the game. These include Egyptian heads, fire spirits and spiked wheels. On later levels expect to fight flying eggs, headless zombies, walking cannons and even a giant spider with a human head! Each monster requires special tactics to defeat, so experimentation is the key. Some beasts can only be killed with certain weapons so collect everything in sight! Look out for those creatures that can't be killed at all like the fireballs, flying eggs and spiked wheels!

▲ Winged eggs block Wardner's progress!

▲ Jump VERY carefully!

COMMENT

MATT

While Wardner mightn't be as graphically impressive as games like Mickey Mouse and Sonic the Hedgehog, it's certainly got the staying power to keep you challenged long after you've finished the others. There's plenty of platform action on offer, and the funky sound keeps you tapping your toes as you battle all manner of beasts. Although Wardner isn't a big-name coin-op, it's well worth looking up - platform fans will love it.

YE OLDE SHOPPE

Occasionally, Wardner visits the shop, where he can top up on new weapons and special items. The only downside is that it all costs money!

Money is found in many shapes and forms (well, two to be precise). Chests can be opened to yield their monetary load, and blasting meanies provides many money bags to add to your collection.

CLOAK: This protects Wardner from enemy hits.

SEWING NEEDLE: Repairs Wardner's cloak, so it can take even more hits!

CLOCK: If the timer runs out, this useful little item automatically kicks in and adds thirty more seconds to the clock.

PRESENTATION 79%

The story is told in great detail, but unfortunately unless you read Japanese it means nothing.

GRAPHICS 75%

The sprites and backgrounds are slightly fuzzy in places, but are nevertheless similar to their arcade counterparts.

SOUND 85%

Brilliant tunes and electrifying effects make this an aural delight!

PLAYABILITY 83%

Wardner's a tricky game, and there are plenty of nasty surprises to catch out unwary players.

LASTABILITY 81%

Don't use all the continues and you've got a challenge that'll keep you going for quite some time.

OVERALL 84%

A thoroughly enjoyable coin-op conversion which features great sound and oodles of playability. Highly recommended to platform fans.

STORY:

Betrayed! After signing a peace treaty with the BCATS star pirates, the Alliance of Pleasant Worlds set about building eight space stations with the help of their new-found confederates. But as the eighth station reached its orbit, a bomb secretly placed aboard by CATS exploded destroying it utterly!

Moments before the station exploded, its captain managed to reach his Zero Wing starfighter and launch it. His mission is now to avenge his betrayed comrades, and bring CATS to justice - dead or alive!

COMMENT

PAUL

Toaplan have produced some really classy stuff on the Megadrive, and though I don't think Zero Wing plays as well as Hellfire, it's probably their most polished game to date. The opening sequences which set the scene are ace, and the graphics throughout the game are really detailed - the Zero Wing ship itself is a masterpiece of sprite design. One of Zero Wing's best features is that, unlike a lot of Megadrive games, it demands a lot of skill to play well. Fancy flying is essential because there are some tight passages to negotiate, and bullets are constantly flying everywhere. Definitely one of the best Megadrive, blasts of recent months!

SUCK AND BLOW

Mounted below the Zero Wing's cockpit is a tractor beam projector which, when activated, grabs any small enemy nearby and neutralises it. It is then locked on to the front of the Zero Wing in a stasis field, where it acts as a make-shift forward shield. By reversing the power of the beam, the "shield" can be propelled forwards to destroy another enemy!

MEGADRIIVE REVIEW

牛寺集

CHOOSE WEAPONS

Supply transporters chug past at regular intervals, and when they're destroyed they leave behind one of three weapon pods (which appear in the order below). Collecting further pods of the same colour powers-up the weapon up to three times. Alternatively, the transporters may drop a thrust unit which provides extra manoeuvring speed or an annihilator bomb which creates a sphere of destruction when detonated. Also, watch out for 1-UPs and 10-UPs(!), and the secret super power-up which appears sometimes after you've been through all eight levels and start again at the beginning!

HOMING

Even in its most basic form this shoots up to five streams of rockets which lock on to any nearby enemy and blow it to smithereens. Power-ups make each shot more effective and at full strength this is extremely dangerous to CATS.

VULCAN

The first weapon is a forward-firing particle cannon, and this pod also equips your ship with the two outrigger drones which treble your firepower and act as shields. Full strength is ten-way forward firepower!

LASER

This weapon fires powerful blue beams of laser energy straight ahead. Powers-up to devastating lances of pure plasma which would make even end-of-level bosses quake in their boots if they were wearing any.

TOAPLAN'S TRIUMPHS

At first Zero Wing looks like a cross between Truxton and Hellfire, but then that's hardly surprising as all three games were programmed by Japanese gamesmiths. Toaplan. Toaplan's Megadrive stuff has so far been limited to shoot 'em ups, almost all of which have been very good indeed - Hellfire is regarded by some as the best space blast on the Megadrive. Their least successful game to date has been Sema! Sema! Sema!, but that may well have been because it was an aircraft shoot 'em up which was released at the same time as a load of other, similar games. Coming soon is a conversion of one of their arcade games, Outzone, an up-the-screen blast which should be available within the next two months.

▲ Truxton

▲ Sema! Sema! Sema!

▲ Toaplan's best yet - Hellfire.

COMMENT

RICH

weaponry too. The sound (as usual for a Toaplan game) is great, with some pretty decent effects and brilliant tunes. But it's usually the difficulty level of a game that either makes or breaks it, and just like Hellfire, Zero Wing is something of a tough mutha - even on the lowest difficulty setting. So if it's thrills, spills and a high death count you're after, look no further!

PRESENTATION 92%

Plenty of options and some great introduction screens, which are unfortunately plastered with Japanese text.

GRAPHICS 92%

As well as the terrific intro screens, Zero Wing sports some great-looking sprites and backgrounds!

SOUND 88%

The sound effects are fine, and the background tunes vary from "good" to "real good"!

PLAYABILITY 90%

Plays much like a lot of other shoot 'em ups, it has sufficient innovative touches, and the urge to see the next level keeps you playing.

Once upon a time, when everyone was happy and commuting had yet to be invented, there was a clever young lad called Julian who lived with his two brothers in the land of Holm. Life for them and their countrymen was peaceful until, just when it looked like things couldn't get any better, bad fortune struck the land.

Crops failed and Holm was invaded by hordes of ugly monsters from the Seventh Level of Hell. Back in Julian's home town, the town elders decided that only a magical talisman could save the land from the invaders - but the talisman had been stolen! Julian, being the bravest and most handsome young fella-me-lad in the neighbourhood, volunteered to set out to recover the item and free his land from menace. And his brothers vowed that if Julian couldn't find it, they would take up their swords and complete the quest.

This adventure game casts the player as Julian (and if he dies on the quest, as his brothers) as he travels through the land, fighting monsters and seeking treasure on the road to the talisman. Folks he meets on the way provide information and, if Julian has enough money, the chance to pick up weapons, provisions and spells so that he stands a chance of surviving longer than ten minutes!

▲ Julian runs into some shady characters on the bridge!

COMMENT

MATT

I've been changing my poor opinion of console RPGs recently because of games like Sword of Vermilion and King's Bounty. This is a large step in the wrong direction though. It's graphical style is very similar to SOV, but the gameplay is much more limited. There are loads of things to do and the land is huge but I didn't find the overall situation particularly enthralling - in fact it didn't interest me at all. So the whole game left me uninvolved and rather bored, and although this is technically great game I just can't recommend it personally. Try Might and Magic II if you fancy a Megadrive RPG or adventure this month. I think that's a lot more challenging.

REVIEW

VITAL STATISTICS

Julian keeps track of his abilities through the narration scroll which displays his last action, as well as four main scores, Bravery (attack strength), Luck (determines the likelihood of being resurrected), Kindness (shows how willing other characters are to talk), and Vitality (basically, health - if this reaches zero, it's bye-bye, matev).

BITS 'N' BOBS

Julian starts off carrying only a dagger, but later gets the chance to grab a load of goodies. Extra weapons, in the shape of bows, maces, and dirks give him additional fighting power, and glass vials revive lost vitality after a punch up. Green jewels provide light in gloomy, wet passages. Gold rings halt time for a short while, so Julian can rush over and kill any monsters in his vicinity without getting hurt himself. Other fab items to look out for include Blue stones for teleporting and Crystal Orbs for finding secret doors.

▼ Julian's bravery makes him stronger in combat.

MONSTER MASH

A change of music signals the approach of a monster so let's have a peek at a selection!

SKEL ETON

These are the weediest creatures in the game, but watch out if they're in groups! They often carry useful items which they drop when killed.

WRAITHS

These cause Julian a few hassles early in the game, but once he's a bit tougher they are cream puffs. Try to grab their treasure just before they vanish.

BOWMEN

These give Julian grief no matter how strong he has become. Close on them quickly and kill them before they release too many arrows.

COMMENT

PAUL

but the tiny character sprites mince around looking appallingly weedy. Graphical discrepancies wouldn't be so bad if there was enough gameplay to keep you distracted, but there isn't, and you're never given a firm idea about what you should do next. Talking to the characters is pretty pointless because they rarely have anything informative to say and the combat section is, frankly, feeble. If you want a really good RPG spend the £40 on Sword of Vermillion, which is a much better game all round.

FAMICOM REVIEW

Sim City gives the player a vast island, a massive amount of cash, and some very quick builders. Using these resources, it's down to you to create a city. But just throwing down buildings and roads any old how isn't good enough. Should your settlement be a nasty place to live then the simulated populace (the Sims) just won't bother moving in. Similarly, they're scared away by the likes of massive tax levies, hideous amounts of pollution, and they're not very likely to want to live in your city if there's nowhere to work or go shopping.

The options open to you change as your city grows. For example, it's up to you to decide whether your city could cope with an air or seaport. But via the popular opinion polls, the Sims voice their own views on what are the most serious problems in the city. Also, if they think that the city is lacking some necessary type of amenity (like a sports stadium, for example), they're all too quick to throw down a few demands.

No-one said your term as the mayor of Sim City was going to be easy...

COMMENT

RICH

I've got Sim City on my PC, and hours literally fly by when you're creating your own urban work of art. Now, Imagineer have released the Super Famicom game and it's the best version yet without a shadow of a doubt! The graphics have been spruced up and loads more buildings have been added to the original concept (you've even got your own house!). The sound has been similarly improved and there's a vast range of soothing tunes playing in the background whilst your city-creating antics are in progress. The icon system is incredibly easy to use, and even though the majority of the text is in Japanese, it doesn't take a genius to work out what's going on (especially if you're a genius with an English translation of the instructions, which most importers are giving out with the game). Sim City is a bit on the expensive side (I've seen it advertised for £50.00), but shop around the importers for a good price and invest in this unique cartridge immediately. It'll have you playing for months!

"O" LEVEL GEOGRAPHY

Your city is comprised of three main types of building. Industrial areas are the places where a lot of your Sims trundle off to work, whilst the residential areas are the places where they live. Commercial areas include the likes of shops and offices, so these places tend to be very popular. Creating a transport network to enable the Sims to travel between these places is very important. Sim City gives you the opportunity to create both road and rail networks.

遊園地 カジノ

市長、住民のために娯楽施設を建設しましょう。
遊園地には住民があつまり、カジノは犯罪が心配ですが収入は増えますぞ。 遊園地とカジノのどちらにしましょう？

OTHER BUILDINGS

Police and fire departments are essential for keeping your city safe from all hazards - and if your city is large enough police and fire area division buildings are created! Also look out for sports stadiums (both enclosed and open air), seaports, airports, banks, casinos and even your own house! Some of these buildings only become available later on into the game and can be accessed via the question mark icon on the bottom right of the panel.

INTRODUCING... DR SIM!

Dr Sim is a rather curious chappie, and he crops up throughout the game in a series of cameo screens to inform you of your progress (or lack of it). Although his words of wisdom are only decipherable to those who can read Japanese, his actions more than get the message across. If he's being chased around the screen by a masked robber, you know that crime is rife. Similarly, if he's being pursued by a monster, you know that Godzilla's going to turn up!

DISASTER!

If for some bizarre reason, you feel like destroying your city after you've created it (??), then Sim City enables you to do it in style! On the Armageddon agenda you'll find the likes of tornadoes, fires, earthquakes, sea or air tragedies and if you're feeling rather destructive, there's even the opportunity to let a Godzilla-alike loose on your city!

COMMENT

JULIAN

Sim City is one of those games in which once you start playing it's very difficult to turn off. You start building your city, then you add more bits on, and more. Build a seaport. Make an airport. Deal with a whole load of crime and pollution problems... and then discover that it's 2:00 am and you've been playing for six hours! It's an incredibly rewarding game to play, and you can watch your teeming metropolis flourish and grow - or start to fail if you don't run things properly! With its multitude of options, mega-addictive playability and constant fresh challenges, Sim City has more lasting appeal than any other Super Famicom yet seen!

JACK NICKLAUS

GREATEST 18 HOLES MAJOR CHAMPION

GOLF

Jack Nicklaus is a bit of a boffin when it comes to golf, having won just about every major golfing accolade possible. However, he's taken time off from his exciting golfing exploits to endorse this new Nintendo golf simulation.

Like a lot of current golf simulations, Jack Nicklaus Golf gives you a 3D view of the proceedings, and it's your golfer's task to clobber the ball in the direction of the green. When you're on the green, you'll no doubt notice a small hole. Simply putt the little white spherical item into this hole and Bob's your uncle, the hole's over.

This process is repeated seventeen more times, as there are a massive 18 holes crammed into this simulation, but each hole presents its own set of hazards to make the job that bit more difficult...

BEGINNER'S LUCK

There is an option that saves beginners making complete idiots of themselves in this game - something that happens rather a lot if you're not too careful. So, if you're a novice player and make a complete cock-up of a shot you simply press the appropriate button and you're given another chance to get it right! Later difficulty levels don't make things easier, and if you hit the ball out of bounds, the console forces you to re-take the shot after humiliating you with a one stroke penalty! Bah!

COMMENT

There are a lot of good golf games appearing on other consoles but, most mysteriously (considering it is the world's number one games system) there aren't any on the Nintendo, and this pretty poor effort doesn't improve the situation. The 3D course display (as well as being ugly and slow to draw) is pointless because it gives very little idea of how far away the JULIAN course features actually are. This makes gauging the power and direction of the shot ridiculously difficult, and consequently the game is terribly frustrating. The four player option is laudable, but why would four people want to play such a duff game? Give it a miss.

Paul readies himself for a good stroke.

◀ A digital Jack the lad.

▲ A nice shot... straight into the trees!

KLING'S QUEST OF KNOWLEDGE

CHOOSE YOUR CLUB

There are twelve clubs (three woods and eight irons) crammed into your golfer's caddy bag, and each of these is used to hit the ball a certain distance. The woods have a solid head and a long shaft so that they can hit the ball over longer distances. The irons have angled heads which loft the ball more, so they are best used for shorter distances of around 200 yards or less.

GOLFING CLASSICS

Each of the holes depicted in this NES game are in fact close digital replicas of holes especially chosen by Jack Nicklaus himself! But that's not all, because for each of these holes Mr Nicklaus comes up with his own brief summary. Unfortunately, Jack-boy's not about to give away any of his prized golfing techniques, so these summaries usually end up explaining why the strokemeister likes the course so much.

A COURSE OF CONFUSION

Each hole offers its own golfing challenge to the player, including massive forests and large lakes. Other hazards aren't quite as large but prove to be just as much of a nuisance, and these includes the smaller ponds and the sandy bunkers. The shot is also made that much more difficult if the ball lands in the rough. A lot of the power of the stroke is lost just by trying to clear the long grass.

COMMENT

MATT

arrghhh! To add insult to injury, the actual play area is also a bit on the small side. The sound is similarly dire too, though there's some sampled sound that (very) occasionally makes an appearance. Lastability isn't too hot either, with only the Greatest 18 to conquer and I don't think that'll take too long. If I were you, I'd save the cash for a more deserving NES title. Hopefully, it won't be too long before Nintendo see fit to release a superior version of this compelling type of game.

BONANZA BROTHERS

Those bungling, burgling Bonanza Bros are back in town - and this time they're not taking any crap! Instead they're taking just about every valuable item that isn't nailed to the floor!

Robo and Mobo are the Bonanza Bros in question, and it's their job to organise armed raids on every major building in town and relieve them of all valuables possible. The only problem is that each building has a large contingent of security guards, and having heard of the massive $100 dollar reward out for the brothers, they're eager to blast them into oblivion.

The screen is split in half, with each mini-screen showing one brother's progress through the eight-way scrolling building. The aim is simply to pick up all of the flashing items and make good your escape.

Easy, huh? No chance...

▲ Here's Mobo's highwire trick!

▼ Check out your targets here.

▲ The mine level.

BONANZA BADDIES

There are plenty of different security guards found in each level, all intent on making the brothers meet with a hideous doom. Most simply raise the alarm, or attempt to blast (or cudgel) our heroes into an early grave. Watch out for the shield-bearing guards (as seen in another Sega coin-op, Crackdown). Their shields deflect all your bullets, so your best bet's to sneak up behind them and blast them while their shield is pointing in the opposite direction!

PIZZA CRS

BONANZA BLATTING

Although Robo and Mobo only carry a pea-shooter-esque gun around with them, the backgrounds provide a wealth of attack opportunities. If a guard is loitering behind a door, the brothers can wham it open, blatting the hapless guard straight

SPLIT-SCREEN SKILLS

Bonanza Bros is meant to be played by two players simultaneously (the screen looks more than a little bare when only one brother's taking part), and this is supposed to increase the strategy element. For example, one brother could be shooting the guards from one side of the room whilst the other scoops up all the booty. However, chances are that the brothers will take completely separate routes, scooping up all the treasure and thus completing the level quicker (and getting tons more bonus points!).

REVIEW

◀ Take the airship to clear the level!

Oo-er! Looks like Robo's been spotted!

COMMENT

RICH

Bonanza Bros was a great game in the arcades, mainly because the player only had to stump up 20p for a game which was packed with great humour, excellent graphics and decent playability. The Megadrive version is very close to the coin-op, with only some of the later levels and bonus stages missing. However, the gameplay does get very repetitive after a while and on easy level, you can see the whole game if you use all of the credits. Even on the harder setting, Bonanza Bros doesn't represent a serious challenge to a hardened games player due to the wealth of credits. I didn't find much fun with the two-player mode - there's no real sense of either team work or competition to add to the gameplay. If you're a real Bonanza Bros nut (like Julian), you'll like this, but if you only find the game marginally intriguing, spend a couple of quid on the coin-op instead.

▲ Mobo faces a shield-bearing guard!

▲ These bumbling guards are no match!

▲ This burbling brother has a lot of a problem!

▲ Watch out for mega Bonanza Bros squashing robots!

▲ Checking out the lab level.

▲ Entering the factory stage.

CASING THE JOINT

There are ten levels of Bonanza Bros blagging crow-barred into this cartridge. The venues for all these sticky fingered antics range from a top-secret lab to the likes of a high security mint, a flashy yacht and a designer jewelry shop!

▲ Bonanza Bros home movies...

COMMENT

JULIAN

touches. Watch what happens when a fly lands on your head, you step on a can or rake, fall off a wall or get splattered behind a door! My only gripe (I've already said this about another Megadrive title this month!) is that there are too many continues, and they let you finish the game very quickly (especially if you're also playing it on "easy" level). Play sensibly on the "normal" level with one credit at a time and you've got a thoroughly enjoyable and very unusual Megadrive conversion which fans of the coin-op will adore.

HAVE A NICE TRIP

Keep a look out for rakes and discarded Coke cans dotted around the floor! Walk over these and the lads either trip over or are momentarily stunned. Whatever happens, precious time is lost, and if a guard is near, the chances are they'll collar you!

PRESENTATION 92%

Excellent in this department, with loads of options and attract screens.

GRAPHICS 91%

Great comic sprites and a wide variety of backdrops.

SOUND 90%

Spot-on tunes and groovy effects - the Robodog is skill!

PLAYABILITY 83%

Easy to get into and instantly addictive...

LASTABILITY 74%

...but be warned: the game's far too easy to complete if you use all the credits. Play sensibly and use them wisely.

OVERALL 82%

Fans of the coin-op will love this - but others might find the action a little too repetitive. If in doubt, check it out.

SUBSCRIBE!

We've had literally hundreds of inquiries about getting together a subscription to MEAN MACHINES. So we've done it. And not in just any old fashion. Oh no! We want to give you readers the best offer possible - so we've done it!

To get a full 12 month's subscription (and that means 12 issues) all you have to pay for is the price of eleven issues (the same price you'd pay for them in the shop). The 12th issue and all the postage and packing is taken care of by us!

Brilliant, eh? Saving you loads of money so you can put it towards the next mega console game! Are we generous or what?

The price of the subscription is only £19.25 (if you live in the UK), £32.00 if you live in an EEC country other than Britain) and £39.00 for the rest of the world. How do you subscribe? Just fill out the form below, enclose a cheque/postal order/international money coupon and send it off to: MEAN MACHINES

SUBSCRIPTIONS, PO BOX 300, PETERBOROUGH, PE1 5TQ.

HERE ARE THE REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE TO MEAN MACHINES:

YOU'LL BE THE FIRST TO GET MEAN MACHINES - EACH ISSUE WILL BE PRIORITY MAILED TO YOU SO YOU'LL GET IT EVEN BEFORE IT'S ON SALE IN THE NEWSAGENTS!

YOU'LL NEVER HAVE TO GO DOWN TO THE NEWSAGENTS TO GET YOUR COPY ONLY TO FIND OUT THAT THEY'VE SOLD OUT.

YOU'LL NEVER MISS AN ISSUE - VITALLY IMPORTANT IF YOU WANT TO KEEP UP WITH WHAT'S NEW ON THE CONSOLES SCENE!

YOU GET 12 ISSUES, BUT YOU ONLY HAVE TO PAY FOR 11!

WE'LL BE RUNNING SPECIAL SUBSCRIBER COMPETITIONS IN THE FUTURE WHICH ONLY SUBSCRIBERS WILL BE ELIGIBLE FOR!

WE'LL HAVE SPECIAL OFFERS FOR SUBSCRIBERS!

IT'D BE THE BEST PRESENT YOU COULD EVER GET - 12 MONTH'S SUPPLY OF THE GREATEST CONSOLES MAGAZINE IN THE ENTIRE UNIVERSE!

I WANT SUBSCRIPTION AND I WANT IT NOW! SO I HAVE ENCLOSED A CHEQUE/POSTAL ORDER/INTERNATIONAL MONEY MADE PAYABLE TO EMAP PLC ORDER FOR:

£19.25 (UK SUBSCRIPTION) .....

£32.00 (EEC COUNTRIES ONLY) .....

£39.00 (REST OF THE WORLD) .....

OR CHARGE MY VISA/ACCESS CARD. MY NUMBER IS: .....

MEAN MACHINES 100

While the Sultan is away, the evil Grand Vizier Jaffar has taken over the throne. And to cap it all, he's even trying to get his grubby mitts on the Sultana who he's abducted! Sounds like a rescue job is the order of the day, and you're the one to do the heroic deed.

The object of this first Sega release from Domark is to explore the 12 dungeons of the palace and search both for the hero's sword and the Sultan's daughter. He runs, jumps, edges forward and lowers himself off precipices. Potions along the way either help or hinder the hero, and the fat guards blocking the way get tougher and tougher as the levels progress.

Prince of Persia was a huge hit on the computer formats and looks set to do the same on the Sega. The movement and gameplay are shaping up nicely, and MEAN MACHINES will supply a full review as soon as possible. What your appetite with these fantastic screen shots...

▲ Slamming portcullises threaten to slice our man.

MOVING EXPERIENCES

The most impressive thing about Price of Persia is the movement of the main sprite. The animation is truly stunning, with the hero running, leaping and edging his way forward in amazingly realistic fashion. It's hard to show this with a static screenshot, but until the game is available in the shops you'll have to take our word for it! Even when he falls, the hero plummets and dies in a frighteningly accurate fashion!

▲ It doesn't look like he's made the jump!

of PERSIA

DUNGEON DENIZENS

The palace catacombs are full of terrors and traps. The eunuchs who guard certain passages have nothing to lose, so they fight with ferocity, especially on later levels. An added feature are the skeletons who also battle fiercely against any trespassers. Slamming gates, yawning chasms and collapsing floors conspire to kill our hero. Only the best can survive!

▲ The hero decides that the Karen Carpenter lookalike is too tough.

GLORIOUS GOSSIP

WHAT A DOLL!

Hot from the USA comes news of a new Nintendo and Game Boy game which "Our Boys In The Office" (particularly Richard) are most keen to get hold of. In Barbie(TM) - The Video Game, the famed dolly is cast in a Cinderella-type role. She is dreaming of attending the Royal Fantasy Ball but has nothing to wear, so it's up to the player to find the magical fashion accessories she needs to make her the belle of the ball (hey! sounds like the perfect game for trendy Rich). "Discover powerful charms. Make new friends. And model some of the coolest fashions ever..." Barbie is counting on you!" says the press-spiel. Rich says she can count on him any time. What a sick boy he is.

SONIC CLAMPDOWN

After a fair old bit of (not unjustified) hype, demand for Sega's Sonic the Hedgehog is reaching fever pitch among British Megadrive fans. Word reaches me from an anonymous importer that Sega of America are so worried about sharp British entrepreneurs buying up a load of Sonics in the USA and flogging them off over here before the official version actually hits the shelves. They've warned wholesalers not to send bulk orders of Sonic to UK addresses, or "it'll be the worse for them!" "If it comes down to it," said our anonymous correspondent, "we'll bloody go over there and buy a case full of 'em!" Sounds like they'll be expensive then!

MEAN MACHINES RIPS OFF WRESTLE-MANIACS SHOCKER!!

Got a call the other day from a punter who had been told by another anonymous importer that, no, he couldn't buy Megadrive Wrestle War from them because it wasn't available at the time. "But how come MEAN MACHINES and Computer and Video Games have reviewed it then?" asked our little bird. "Ah, they didn't," came the reply. "They reviewed the arcade game - you can tell by the screenshots."

Oh-ho! Is that right? Well, before anyone else dares to impugn our credibility further, may I just point out that the arcade game didn't have a panel down the side of the screen with the wrestlers' power bars in it, nor does it print the word "PAUSE" on the screen! In fact, we got our copy of the game direct from Virgin who provide us with chips that slot into a circuit board. So let's have no more of this "reviewing arcade games" nonsense or I'll get upset and Oz will start to cry.

JULIAN RIGNALL IS MISSING!

Actually, that's a bit of a fib. Old Jules departed these shores about halfway through this issue to check out the scene at the American Consumer Electronics Show in Chicago, leaving Paul Glancey to finish things off. And as I write this he has yet to return, seeing as how he made a detour to Florida on his way home. Anyway, about halfway through the show he managed to rake up enough dimes to phone home, and brought us this brief report which I thought you might be interested in.

JAZ: I've just seen Super R-Type on the Super Famicom and it's the second-best thing I've ever seen. PAUL: Oh yeah? And what's the best thing you've seen?

JAZ: Super Ghouls 'n' Ghosts on the Famicom! PAUL: Wow! What else is there?

JAZ: Smash TV on the Super Famicom is great, and the follow-up to John Madden Football on the Megadrive is amazing - it's an ice hockey game with fights breaking out all over the place! Oh, and Tengen have got some stuff which you'll love - Paperboy, and a Roadblasters conversion which is arcade perfect!

Well, after that it sort of degenerated into questions about the weather and the hotel and presents he was supposed to bring back, so for more information you'll just have to read Jazza's show report in the next issue of MEAN MACHINES! See ya then!
